Requirements for Admission

General Requirements for Admission

Maryville College enrolls qualified men and women students regardless of race or religion. Admission is based on evidence that the applicant possesses the qualities needed for satisfactory achievement in terms of character, ability, academic foundation, purpose, personality, and health. This evidence is obtained from the applicant's high school record, college entrance tests, evaluations submitted by the high school principal, teachers and other school officials, and the family physician. A combined score of 900 on the Scholastic Aptitude Test, or a composite score of 20 on the tests of the American College Testing program, is considered the minimum essential for the adequately prepared applicant.

Prescribed Entrance Credits

To be eligible for admission, the applicant must have been graduated from an approved high school and present the following specified credits out of the total number of credits required for graduation:

	units
Required
English	4
Laboratory science	1
Mathematics (2 in algebra or 1 each in algebra and plane geometry)	2
Social studies	1
Electives from list below	5
Electives
Additional mathematics (excluding general mathematics and arithmetic)	1-2
Additional science	1-3
Additional social studies	1-3
Foreign languages	2-6
Bible	1
Music Theory	1

The above-listed electives indicate the maximum number of units that may be presented in each subject. Although a foreign language is not required for admission, it is strongly recommended. Entrance credit in a foreign language will not be allowed for fewer than two units in one language.

Applicants who have taken college-level courses in high school may be placed in advanced courses or may be granted college credit, as circumstances may warrant. Advanced placement or credit for such courses will be based on acceptable scores on the Advanced Placement Examinations of the College Entrance Examination Board, taken in the senior year of high school.

Application for Admission

Preliminary application, the first step toward admission, should be made on the form provided for that purpose. A copy of this form will be found inside the back cover of this catalog. A Preliminary Application fee of $10 is required to cover the cost of processing the application. This fee is not refundable.

Freshmen may be admitted at the beginning of either semester, but application should be made well in advance to allow sufficient time for the receipt and approval of the required credentials and to permit acceptance before the quota for the semester has been filled. In acknowledging the preliminary application, the College sends the complete application form and other forms which must be returned before final consideration of the application. These include Parents' Form, Reference Forms, Physician's Certificate and a form which requests from the high school principal a certificate of the applicant's high school record.

Scores on either the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board or the tests of the American College Testing Program, taken in the senior year, must be furnished through the high school or direct from the testing service. No applicant is accepted until all these credentials have been received and approved by the faculty Committee on Admission and Standing.

Application for admission to Maryville College includes the pledging of loyalty to the College and its standards. The College encourages applications only from those who are in sympathy with the institution's ideals, methods, and regulations and who would expect to abide by and support them.

Admission From Other Colleges

Students with satisfactory credentials may be admitted by transfer from other colleges. Acceptance will be based upon the applicant meeting the requirements of this College for admission to the freshman class and having maintained at least a "C" average in all college work previously undertaken. Advanced standing is granted on a tentative basis, subject to an acceptable scholarship record at this College. Credit is allowed only for recognized liberal arts subjects. Students transferring from non-accredited institutions may be accepted under probationary conditions.

Those who desire admission by transfer must make formal application and submit the credentials described in previous paragraphs for admission to the freshman class. In addition, each applicant must have sent to this College by the registrar of the college previously attended a transcript of credits, including entrance units and a statement of honorable dismissal.

Transfer students are required to complete at least two semesters of residence work and 12 semester hours in their major field at Maryville College to be eligible for graduation. Graduates of accredited junior colleges are normally admitted to the junior class but must complete at least 60 semester hours at this College before graduation. In computing scholarship averages for graduation, quality points on transferred work are assigned on a basis not higher than the student's average grade at Maryville College. Credit is not allowed for correspondence work.

Admission As Special Student

Under certain circumstances an applicant over 21 years of age, not qualified for admission as a freshman, may be admitted as a special student. While demonstrated fitness to do college work is required, a special student is not classified as a candidate for a degree. In case a special student decides to become a candidate for the degree, he must satisfy the entrance requirements in full within two years from the time of his admission. No person is admitted as a special student who can meet the requirements for admission as a regular student.

Admission to Special Work in the Department of Fine Arts

Students in any of the regular classes may take work in applied music and in studio art in connection with the regular curriculum subjects within the limits of the regulation governing required and permitted hours. Out-of-town students are required to pursue courses of study leading to the bachelor's degree. If, therefore, they are taking work in the fine arts, it must be scheduled in connection with the regular academic requirements shown on pages 19-21 and 24, 25.

Expenses to the Student

In accordance with the established policy of Maryville College, expenses to the student are kept as low as possible. For the 1965-1966 school year, students rooming in the dormitories pay to the College from $1,472.00 to $1,492.00 a year depending upon the residence hall and room occupied, and those living in their own homes in the community pay approximately $857.00, exclusive of books.

It is anticipated that for the 1966-1967 school year total costs will be about $1,592.00. Room will be $250.00, board will remain at $400.00, and tuition and fees will be $942.

All prices quoted in this catalog are subject to change without further notice.

NEW STUDENTS: An applicant is not assured of admission until all of his credentials have been received and approved and, in the case of a dormitory student, his Room Reservation Fee accepted before enrollment is completed. The Preliminary Application Fee of $10 received earlier is not refundable but at the time the application is approved becomes the Class Registration Fee mentioned above.

OLD STUDENTS: Unless the $10 Class Registration Fee is paid to the College before the last day of the current semester, a student is not assured of a place in the classes of the next semester for which he may have enrolled at the time of the advance registration. In addition, a dormitory student, in order to hold his room for the First Semester, must make an advance payment of $50 on the room rent before May 1 (see below).

The $10 fee is held by the College as a breakage deposit until the close of the Second Semester, when it is refunded with such deductions as are necessary. This deposit covers laboratory breakage and any other miscellaneous items for which special payment may be due from the individual student. If an accepted applicant withdraws his application, the advance Class Registration Fee is not refunded.

Rooms in the Dormitories

In addition to the advance Class Registration Fee of $10, required of all students, dormitory students must pay a Room Reservation Fee of $50, which becomes an advance payment on room rent when the student completes enrollment. If a student notifies the Admissions Office before May 1 (for the First Semester) or before December 1 (for the Second Semester) that he wishes to cancel his reservation the $50 will be refunded. There will be no refund after May 1 or December 1, as the case may be. Rooms are reserved for accepted students in the order of payment of the Room Reservation Fee; however, the head of the dormitory may make reassignments of particular rooms at any time it seems advisable. Returning dormitory students are required to pay this reservation fee only once for the year; it must be paid before May 1 and no refund will be made after that date. Rooms and dining hall places cannot be reserved until this deposit is received and will not be held beyond noon of the first day of classes in the semester unless the full room rent has been paid.

All dormitory rooms contain wardrobes, single beds and mattresses, tables with built-in bookcases, chairs, and dressers. The student will provide bedding, including pillows, and any other necessity not here specified.

Usually two students occupy one room. When rooms are available, a student may room alone by paying one and one-half times the usual rental.

The Infirmary

The Ralph Max Lamar Memorial Infirmary is available for out-of-town students. In cases of slight illness no charge is made for nursing, but the patient pays $3.00 a day for room, board, and laundry. The facilities of the Blount Memorial Hospital, near the campus, are available in cases of serious illness. On Monday, Wednesday, and Friday of each week free medical consultation and prescription by approved physicians are provided at the infirmary for out-of-town students. Any other medical attention that may be required must be paid for by the student. The College uses every possible means to protect the lives and health of its students, but cannot assume any financial responsibility for injuries or illness. However, the College has Workmen's Compensation insurance, which carries certain specified protection in the case of injuries suffered by any student while participating in the Student Work Program.

Hospitalization

A group hospital and surgical insurance policy provides daily hospital benefits and surgeon's fees according to a specified schedule. Benefits apply to hospital and surgical expenses incurred during the year September 1 — August 31. Beginning with the school year 1965-66, the premium for the group hospitalization insurance will be $15, payable the first semester. Further information about the policy may be obtained from the Treasurer's Office.

Part-Time Students

Students in the College usually take 15 or 16 credit hours a week. There are occasional students who for various reasons carry a small number of courses. In such cases the tuition charge is $35 a credit hour for a student taking fewer than 12 hours. These charges do not pertain in any way to private lessons in the Fine Arts. Students living in the dormitories and eating in the dining hall must meet the requirements outlined elsewhere concerning the number of hours taken, and pay the full charges for room rent and board regardless of the number of hours taken. Persons who are not enrolled as students in the College may attend classes as auditors by paying a nominal fee of $15 per course per semester.

Textbook Rental

In 1888, Miss Sarah B. Hills of New York contributed a fund for the establishment of a loan library, the James R. Hills Library, in order that students unable to purchase the necessary textbooks might have the privilege of renting them at a nominal rate of about one fifth of the retail price. By judicious management the income from this fund has grown until now the privileges of this library are open to all students, and all the regular textbooks used in the institution may be either rented or purchased. This rental library is administered through the College Book Store.

Linen Service

By special arrangement with a linen service supply company, the College has made available to all dormitory students a linen rental service. This service provides clean linen each week, consisting of two sheets, one pillow case, and three bath towels.

The linen is dispensed from individual metal lockers in each dormitory, and the price for this service is $25 for the academic year (plus state sales tax). This service is offered as a convenience for students, and its use is encouraged by the College. Complete details and a reservation form will be mailed to all students prior to the opening of school.

The Student Help Program

As a practical application of its historic policies Maryville College maintains a coordinated program of financial aid which is one of the oldest in the United States, dating back to 1825. Its purpose is to bring a college education within reach of qualified, deserving young men and women who lack adequate financial resources. It is designed to supplement what students and their parents or other sponsors are able to provide—to help those who help themselves—hence its name: the Student Help Program. This program includes work opportunities, loans, and scholarship grants and is operated in such a way as to give participating students training and experience in acceptance of responsibility and in management of finances. In all phases of the program the student is a participant as well as a recipient. Every year as many as 50 per cent of the students are related to this program in one way or another.

Employment

Various kinds of work are available on campus, all of them important to the operation of the College. Types of work include waiting tables, cleaning in the buildings, typing and other clerical work, assisting in the laboratories, library, and book store. Some students earn as much as one fourth of the amount needed to pay college bills, while a considerable number earn enough to pay a smaller proportion of college costs or to cover personal expenses.

Loans

Short-term loans, repayable during the college year, are available from the College Rotating Loan Fund for those students who wish to pay college bills on a deferred or instalment basis. Endorsers are not required, but the College does require that each student who borrows do so with the full knowledge of his parents or guardian, who thus accept joint responsibility for repayment of the loan. Freshman and transfer students may borrow up to 50 per cent of the total semester cost; currently enrolled students, up to 80 per cent. Loan application forms should be secured from the Student-Help Office early enough to be returned no later than 10 days before the opening of the semester.

Maryville College participates in the National Defense Student Loan Program, which offers long-term loans to superior students who aim toward careers in teaching, in scientific fields, in mathematics, or in modern foreign languages. Any student who is able to give evidence of need and to maintain a grade average of C or above may apply for a loan from this fund. Freshman students are asked to delay application until their first semester record proves their ability to do acceptable college work. Restrictions are made necessary by the fact that available funds are limited and have been designated by Congress for the use of college students of demonstrated ability.

Scholarships

Scholarships in varying amounts are available to students of superior ability, character, and promise. Some are granted to both men and women for the freshman year only while others are renewable for three additional years under certain conditions. Other scholarship awards are given annually to high school seniors who enter competitions in music and art and who enroll as freshmen in Maryville College. Children of ministers and missionaries are granted a scholarship allowance on request.

Acceptance of any form of financial assistance from the College creates a special obligation for honesty, loyalty, and reliability. Students who participate in the Student-Help Program must establish and maintain a satisfactory record in scholarship, in campus citizenship, in performance of assigned duties, and in balance of total program.

Further information about the Student-Help Program may be obtained by writing to the Director of Student-Help, Maryville College, Maryville, Tennessee.

Payment

All bills are due and payable at the beginning of each semester. Deferred or instalment payment of part of the semester bills may be arranged by borrowing from the College Rotating Loan Fund at the Student-Help Office. This arrangement must be made prior to going to the Treasurer's Office to make payment, and the note thus arranged will be accepted in lieu of cash in part payment of the bill. (See "Student-Help Program, Loans.")

No student can be a member of a class until bills are paid either in cash or by note.

Transcripts of credits will not be granted nor diplomas issued until all due accounts with the College are settled satisfactorily.

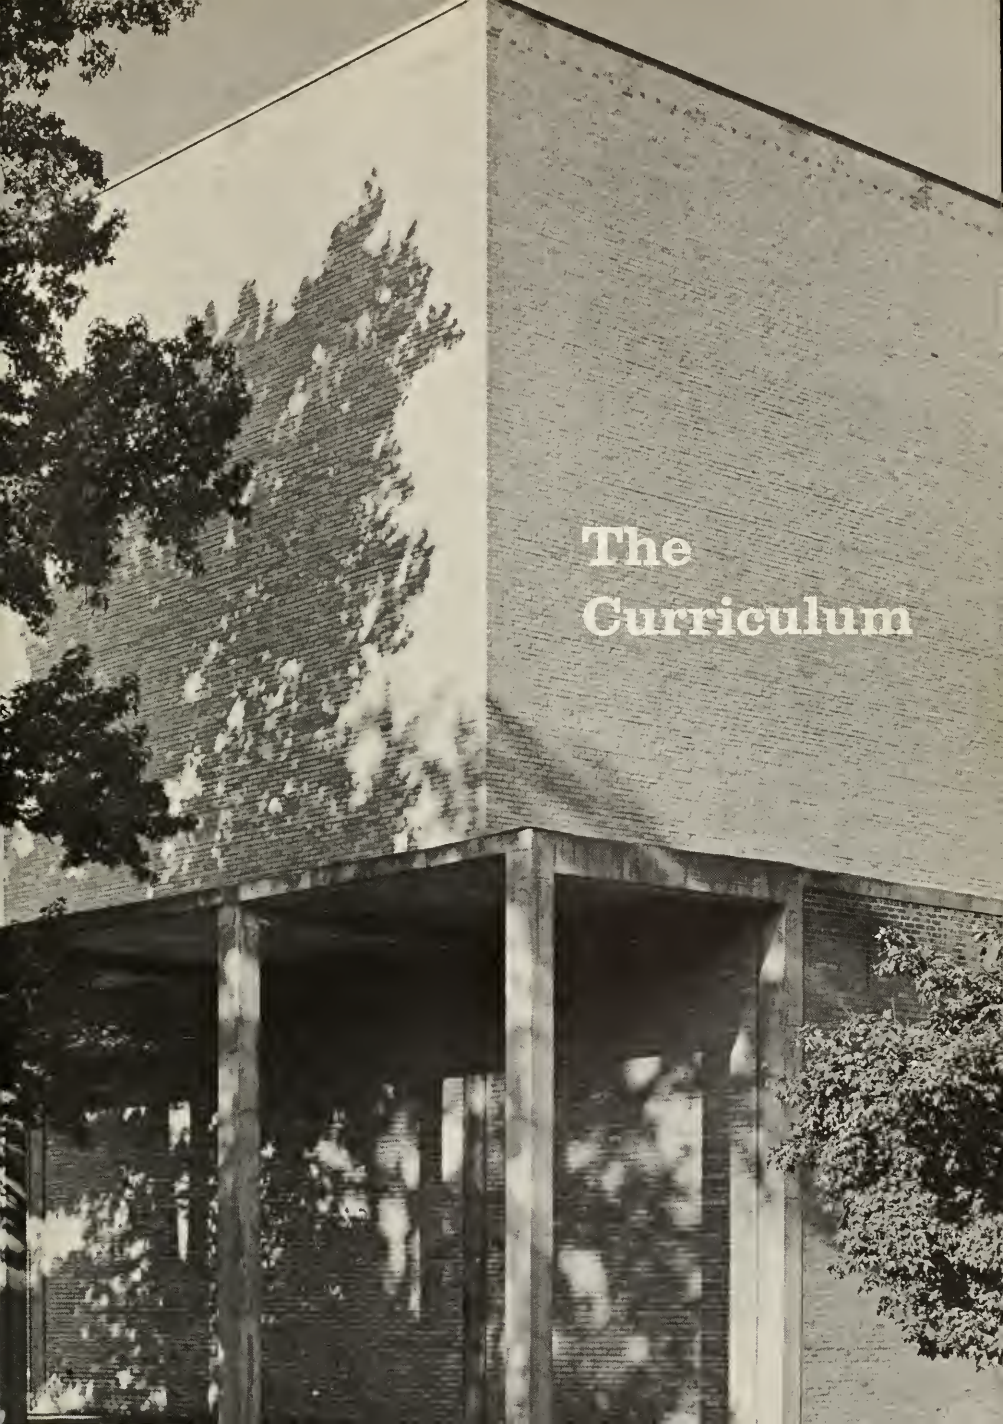
No deductions in charges will be made for absence at the beginning or end of the semester; partial refund of board may be made under certain circumstances but no other refund will be made except in very special cases.

Itemized rates do not include room and board for vacation periods when College is not in session, i.e., Christmas and spring vacation, because no accommodations are available and the College does not assume responsibility for the student during such periods.

In addition to bills payable to the College, allowance must be made for personal expenses and travel. For most students, $200 will cover these costs, though some spend less and many spend more than this amount.

Advance Fees Required

All students are required to pay an advance Class Registration Fee of $10, and dormitory students must pay in addition an advance Room Reservation Fee of $50.



The Curriculum

Essential Elements of the Curriculum

The Maryville College curriculum is designed to keep in balance for a modern liberal arts college the basic liberal studies and a reasonable vocational emphasis; to give an integral place to the Bible and studies in the Christian religion; and to encourage individual creative study in a day when mass methods threaten many of the values of higher education.

Thus the essential elements of the Maryville curriculum are: (1) the great fields of knowledge and the disciplines historically belonging to the liberal arts college; (2) strong offerings in the fields of Bible, Christian education, and philosophy, as necessary to a full education and as the special contribution of the church-related college; (3) effective vocational values in a variety of fields, but with provisions for protecting the liberal arts program from excessive intrusion; and (4) opportunity for individualized creative achievement through programs of independent study.

Organization of the Curriculum

The four-year program of study includes the core curriculum, the major subject sequence with its related courses, and elective courses. The core curriculum, prescribed for all students and comprising approximately one-half of the total hours required for graduation, is designed to provide a broad view of the principal fields of knowledge, while the major subject affords the opportunity to achieve some depth of experience in at least one of the disciplines. The major subject, selected by the student near the end of the freshman year, is usually related to his vocational plans. The core curriculum occupies most of the freshman and sophomore years, while the major, related, and elective subjects predominate in the junior and senior years.

The curriculum is administered through the following 14 departments:

Bible, Philosophy, and Religion
Biology
Chemistry
Economics and Business
English
Fine Arts (Art, Music, Speech)
Foreign Languages (French, German, Greek, Latin, Russian, Spanish)
Health and Physical Education
History
Home Economics
Mathematics and Physics
Political Science
Psychology and Education
Sociology

Degrees

The College confers the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, and Bachelor of Science in Education. The general cultural requirements for the three degrees are the same.

The Bachelor of Arts degree is conferred for the majors in Art, Bible and Christian Education, Economics and Business, English, Foreign Languages, History, Music, Philosophy and Religion, Political Science, and Sociology.

The Bachelor of Science degree is conferred for the majors in Biology, Chemistry, Home Economics, Mathematics and Physics, Medical Technology, and Psychology.

The Bachelor of Science in Education degree is conferred for the majors in Elementary Education, and Health and Physical Education.

Requirements for Graduation

The general requirements for each degree are: (1) completion of at least 128 semester hours of work, including core and major requirements as described in the following paragraphs, with an average grade of at least C for all hours undertaken, and (2) satisfactory performance in a comprehensive examination over the major in the senior year.

A semester hour represents one class hour or two or more laboratory hours a week through one semester.

Core Curriculum

The subjects listed below are specified in the core curriculum for all degrees and majors.

English, 12 hours

Courses 101-102 or 103-104, and 205, 206.

Foreign language, 6 or 12 hours

Courses 201-202 (6 hours) if based on 2 units of the same language in high school; or courses 101-102, 201-202 (12 hours) if the language is begun in college. If more than 2 units of the same language were taken in high school, 6 hours of advanced courses will be required.

No credit is given for courses 101-102 unless followed by 201-202, except that a student who has completed the core requirement in foreign language with average grade of at least C may receive credit for one year of a second language begun later in college, provided he makes an average grade of at least C in his second language. The core requirement, however, must be completed with courses 201-202 or higher.

In choosing a foreign language the student should consult the language requirements of the various majors described under the heading Courses of Instruction.

Science, 8 hours

Biology 101-102; Chemistry 101-102 or 111-112; Physics 101-102 or 201-202.

Bible, 10 hours

Courses 101, 102 and two additional courses.

History, 6 hours

Courses 101, 102.

Philosophy, Christian Education, Religion, 6 hours

Philosophy 311 and an additional course from the group.

Health and Physical Education, 4 hours

Two hours of activity per week each semester of the freshman and sophomore years.

Core Electives, 6-8 hours

Two courses from the following:

Art or Music or Speech (a 3-hour course).

Mathematics 101-102 or 103-104; or 121 (only if student is not qualified for 101 or 103).

Psychology 201.

Social Science (one course from Economics 201, Political Science 201, 202 or Sociology 201, 202).

Major Subject

The major consists of a sequence of approximately 30 semester hours in the subject selected, including 6 hours of Independent Study in that field, with the addition of such related courses as may be prescribed. In Art, Elementary Education, Health and Physical Education, Home Economics, and Music the detailed requirements make necessary somewhat more extensive programs.

Major sequences are offered in 18 subject areas. Minor sequences as such are not recognized, but each major sequence is accompanied by a group of prescribed related courses designed to broaden the student's preparation in subjects allied to his special interest. With the exception of Independent Study, no course with a grade of D may be counted in the major sequence.

The following majors are given:

Art
Bible and Christian Education
Biology
Chemistry
Economics and Business
Elementary Education
English
Foreign Languages
Health and Physical Education
History
Home Economics
Mathematics and Physics
Medical Technology
Music
Philosophy and Religion
Political Science
Psychology
Sociology

The student coming to college with a fairly clear idea of what he may choose as a major subject may with advantage plan his work to that end from the beginning of the freshman year. This is particularly true for a student looking toward a major in Art, Biology, Chemistry, Elementary Education, Home Economics, Mathematics and Physics, or Music.

The student officially registers his choice of a major subject near the end of the freshman year. In making this selection he is free to confer with various persons qualified to give him counsel. Eventually he must consult the designated adviser in the field in which he decides to concentrate. Details of the requirements for each major are found under Courses of Instruction at the head of the course offerings in each field in which a major is offered.

Pre-Professional Curricula

The student who plans to prepare for admission to a professional school should select his major with this in view. It is advisable that he decide as early as possible on the particular institution he expects to enter so that his pre-professional curriculum can be planned in that direction.

Law

For a student who expects to enter law school the usual major is Political Science, although other majors are acceptable. Elective courses in Speech are advised. Maryville is one of a small number of colleges designated to receive each year a full tuition scholarship from the University of Chicago Law School, awarded to a student nominated by the College faculty. Similar scholarship arrangements are in effect with the law schools of Tulane University, Vanderbilt University, and the University of Tennessee.

Engineering

The student who desires a broad foundation for the study of engineering may well invest two or more years at a liberal arts college. The recommended curriculum is the Mathematics-Physics major.

Medicine and Related Professions

Maryville College holds an excellent record in the preparation of students for medical schools. In the study of the U.S. Public Health Service entitled "Baccalaureate Origins of 1950-1959 Medical Graduates" the College is shown to place in the top 25 per cent of colleges nationally in the actual number of male graduates receiving the M.D. degree in the period, with a male M.D. index of 4.3 per cent of the male enrollment.

Students planning to study medicine, dentistry, or veterinary medicine should follow a pre-medical curriculum in either the Biology or the Chemistry major. Information about the pre-medical curriculum will be found in connection with the course descriptions of both of these subjects. Those who plan to enter vocations related to medicine, such as pharmacy and nursing, should likewise follow the pre-medical curriculum.

The Ministry and Christian Education

The student who plans to continue his education in a theological seminary in preparation for the ministry or for Christian education may follow any one of several fields of concentration. Favored majors are English, History, Philosophy and Religion, Psychology, and Sociology. The pre-ministerial student is advised to take Greek as his foreign language, or to fulfill the core requirement with German or French and take Greek later in college; and to elect courses in Speech.

A student planning to enter the ministry or professional Christian education may profit from a conference with the College Chaplain before selecting his major, or with the major adviser in Philosophy and Religion or Bible and Christian Education even though he does not intend to major in these fields.

Registration

Registration for all classes and for private lessons is conducted by the Registrar's Office. A late registration fee is charged for registration after the designated date each semester. Any change of schedule, including the addition or dropping of any class, lesson, or scheduled activity, must be approved at the Registrar's Office.

Classes are scheduled five and a half days in the week, Monday through Saturday noon. Chapel, ordinarily about 20 minutes in length, is held five mornings, Tuesday through Saturday, each week, at 8 a.m.

The usual freshman schedule is shown below. Some variations are permitted, as will be noted in the curricula outlined for the various majors under Courses of Instruction.

First Semester	Hours	Second Semester	Hours

Orientation and Guidance Program

In the opening days of the fall semester new students participate in a three-day program of orientation, testing, and registration. During this period they receive information on such topics as the meaning and purposes of college, course planning, the religious program, how to study, student government and citizenship, adjustment to college living and program, vocational planning, and financial management, under the guidance of faculty and student leaders. At registration each new student is assigned a faculty adviser, who serves as his personal counselor and sponsor throughout the year.

The offices of the Dean of Women and the Dean of Men are provided with much information of value in the selection of a vocation and are prepared to give helpful counsel and to administer the better vocational interest and personality inventories tests. The entire faculty will be found very willing and helpful in matters of individual discussion and counsel.

Grades and Standing

Grades and quality points are recorded as follows: A, excellent, 4 quality points per hour, indicates distinctive creative ability and superior achievement; B, Good, 3 quality points per hour, indicates high quality of achievement; C, Satisfactory, 2 quality points per hour, indicates achievement of the basic requirements of the course; D, Passing, 1 quality point per hour, indicates achievement somewhat below the average but of quality sufficient to allow credit; F, Failed, indicates achievement below that required for credit. WF indicates the student was allowed to withdraw from the course with failing grade or without valid reason. WP indicates the student was allowed to withdraw from the course in good standing. I indicates that the course is incomplete for reasons beyond the student's control; the grade becomes F if the work in not completed within one semester.

Cheating, plagiarism, and other forms of dishonesty on academic work are considered serious offenses. Teachers are required to report all such cases to the Discipline Committee for action. A student who knowingly assists in cheating is likewise subject to discipline.

The student's academic standing is computed by dividing the total number of quality points earned by the total number of semester hours undertaken. Standing is computed before deduction of absence penalties. An average of C (standing of 2.0) for the total number of semester hours undertaken is required for graduation.

Students who at the end of the first semester of their freshman year have not passed 9 credit hours will be asked to consider seriously the advisability of continuing longer in college. If such a student decides to continue in college, he must accept such reduction in schedule and such probationary status as are prescribed by the Committee on Entrance and Standing. During their second semester, freshmen must pass 9 credit hours to remain in college, and after two semesters of college work, students must pass 12 credit hours each semester. Failure to pass the amount of work here specified leads to the student's forfeiture of his connection with the College, unless for satisfactory reasons he is reinstated by vote of the Executive Council of the Faculty.

The record of the grades of each freshman for the first semester of college work is sent by the College to the principal of the school in which the preparatory work was taken. A record of grades is sent to parents or guardian each semester throughout a student's course at Maryville.

Required and Permitted Hours

The normal schedule of studies for all freshmen and sophomores is five classroom subjects and physical education, 16 or 17 semester hours a week. More than this amount is not permitted so long as the student is in the freshman class. The Committee on Entrance and Standing may restrict any student to a smaller number of hours if his grades indicate that such restriction is advisable; however, no course may be dropped without the permission of the Dean and the consent of the instructor concerned. The minimum schedule of studies is 12 semester hours except by special permission of the Committee on Entrance and Standing.

The number of hours that may be carried during any semester subsequent to the freshman year will depend upon the student's grades earned during the preceding semester. If the standing falls below 1.0, no more than 13 hours may be carried; with standing below 2.5, not more than 17 hours may be carried; with standing below 2.8, not more than 18 hours may be carried; with standing below 3.0, not more than 19 hours may be carried; with standing of 3.0, not more than 20 hours may be carried; with standing above 3.0, a maximum of 21 hours may be carried.

In computing permitted hours, in the case of students carrying the normal load of 16 or 17 hours, extra activities, such as debate and private lessons in the fine arts, are not considered a part of the total, but the student is limited to two such extra activities. A student permitted under the above scale to carry as many as 19 hours may in addition carry work in debate or applied work in the fine arts, but only in one of these in any one semester.

Promotion Scale

The expectation in the case of an average student is that he will complete 15-17 hours, with an average grade of at least C, during each semester. In the freshman and sophomore years he will normally complete 16 hours each semester. To allow for reasonable variations, however, promotion from one classification to the next higher classification is upon the following minimum basis:

Freshman to sophomore: the student shall have 26 semester hours, with a standing of 1.5.

Sophomore to junior: the student shall have 60 semester hours, with a standing of 1.7.

Junior to senior: the student shall be within 33 semester hours of completing his graduation requirements, with a standing of 1.9, except that, if he has a standing of 2.6, he may be admitted with 37 hours to complete; or, if he has a standing of 3.0, he may be admitted with 40 semester hours to complete.

A student not eligible for promotion after two years in any class will not be readmitted to college.

Honor Roll

Soon after the beginning of each semester a list is published of those who in the preceding semester achieved a standing of 3.25 or above in all hours undertaken. This is called the Honor Roll or Dean's List and is issued by the Dean's Office.

Freshman-Sophomore Honors Program

Students of superior ability and excellent over-all scholarship may carry on independent study in courses of freshman and sophomore level in the second semester of the freshman year and in either or both semesters of the sophomore year. To be eligible for freshman or sophomore honors work the student must have a standing of at least 3.25 on all college work taken up to the time of entering an honors course.

The honors work consists of independent study considerably beyond the usual materials and requirements of the course to which it is applied. It may take the form of reading, or writing, or experimentation, or any combination of these, as specified by the teacher, within the honors requirements set by the department to which the course belongs.

Upon satisfactory completion of the honors work, with a grade of at least B on the entire course, additional credit of one semester hour is allowed above the usual course credit. The student's permanent record carries "Honors" designation for the course. If the student receives a grade below B for the course, the honors credit and designation are not allowed.

Academic Probation

Any student who at the end of a semester has not achieved an average of C (standing of 2.0) over all college work thus far undertaken is placed on academic probation until his over-all average has been raised to C by subsequent work. Such a student is subject to whatever limitations of load and activities may be prescribed by the Committee on Entrance and Standing. Any student of freshman classification who is on probation at the end of his first semester will be restricted to one extra-curricular activity until he is removed from probation.

An effort is made at the end of each year, and especially at the end of the second year, to estimate the student's promise of successful completion of his college course. This estimate is made by a consideration of the factors of character, personality, use of college opportunities, and cooperativeness, as well as of scholarship achievement. Students who because of deficiency or decline in quality in one or more of these factors give little hope of successful completion of the college course will in clear cases be denied readmission and will in all cases be called upon to consider the advisability of further continuance in college.

Attendance Regulations

Students are expected to attend all required appointments, including classes and daily chapel services, unless prevented by illness or other unavoidable circumstance. There are no "free cuts."

Attendance regulations are based on the principle that consistent attendance is essential to the best class achievement and that excessive absence, regardless of the reasons, represents real academic loss. Absence beyond the equivalent of a week's absence in a semester in any class is considered excessive. Each student is expected to keep an accurate record of his absences with the dormitory housemother or at home, as the case may be.

To cover necessary absences due to illness or other emergency, the student is allowed the equivalent of a week's absence each semester in each class and in chapel. Three times tardy count as one absence. Since authorized college activities (athletic, forensic, musical, etc.) within reasonable limits represent educational values in terms of individual development and disciplines, class absences due to such activities count only half.

Should a student exceed the allowance for any class or chapel, he is penalized by additional credit required for graduation at the rate of one-half semester hour for each excess absence. Should he exceed the allowance in any class or in chapel by an additional week's absence, or should he accumulate altogether eight excess absences, he is warned by the Registrar's Office in writing, and a copy is sent to the parents. Should he accumulate as many as 16 excess absences in a semester without valid reason, he is suspended from college immediately.

To avoid disruption of classes on the two days preceding and the two days following a scheduled holiday or recess, absences on these days are penalized by additional credit required for graduation at the rate of one-half semester hour for each class absence.

If for some unusual reason, such as a serious accident or prolonged illness, a student is compelled to exceed the absence allowances in any semester, or if he finds it necessary to incur holiday penalties, he may present at the Registrar's Office before the end of the semester a written appeal, which will be considered by a faculty committee after the close of the semester. To the extent that such an appeal presents clear evidence that all absences were for valid reasons, or that holiday absences were unavoidable, the committee will at its discretion modify the application of absence penalties.

Students on the Honor Roll (standing of 3.25) the preceding semester have the privilege of exercising responsibility for their class attendance without reference to the limitations stated above; however, a record of the absences of such students is kept as for other students, and they are required to take announced tests. This provision, moreover, does not apply to chapel attendance or to holiday absences.

A student may make up an announced test only by written permission from the Office of the Deans of Men and Women to the teacher concerned, on evidence that absence from the test was unavoidable. In view of the delay and irregularity involved, it is expected that the make-up test be more thorough and extensive than the original.

Independent Study

In the second semester of the junior year and the first semester of the senior year each student carries, under the supervision of a faculty member in the major field, a program of Independent Study which takes the place of one full subject in his program of work and has a credit value of 3 hours each semester. A student must have completed successfully 75 semester hours before he begins the program of Independent Study. One who is delayed in beginning it until the first senior semester carries it throughout the senior year. The student who at the middle of the junior year has not yet a sufficient background of work in his major field will be asked to defer beginning Independent Study until the senior year. In a few majors Independent Study is normally specified for the senior year.

The work may take the form of a coordinated program of reading, or the project may represent investigation or experimentation. The primary aim is to give students the threefold values of (1) the freedom for individual study, (2) the direct benefit of personal faculty guidance, and (3) the practical discipline of the processes and usages of scholarly method and a more intimate and extensive acquaintance with books.

The visible product of this work is a written paper or thesis in which the project is reported and in which the method and form of the formal paper are observed. This report will conform to certain specifications as to format and style which will be set down from time to time.

These reports are uniformly bound and are kept in the library for three years. At the end of that time, if the major department considers the study of sufficient value, it becomes a permanent part of the library collection. Otherwise the study may be claimed by its author or, if he is willing, it may be filed by the major department.

The Library

Lamar Memorial Library, one of the largest college libraries in Tennessee, is on the first floor of Thaw Hall. Two general reading rooms, a periodical and a browsing alcove, four conference rooms and four stack areas provide space and facilities for study and recreational reading. The Library is open 68 hours each week. About $15,000 is expended annually for books and periodicals.

The open stack system makes readily accessible the collection of the 74,000 volumes which includes, in addition to material relating to the curriculum, standard works representing the heritage of civilization, authoritative reference works in the major fields of knowledge, and recreational reading.

Through inter-library loan service extensive book resources of other libraries in the area are made available.

The Library holdings also include a well balanced, comprehensive list of some 400 current periodicals and newspapers, some of which are on microfilm and microcard, and important pamphlet and picture collections.

One section of the library quarters houses an interesting museum collection donated by Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw and others and also a large collection of paintings by Mrs. Elizabeth Gowdy Baker.

Comprehensive Examination

A comprehensive examination is taken by each senior as one of the requirements for the degree. The examination deals with subject matter of the student's major field and may include the prescribed related subjects. The Advanced Test of the Graduate Record Examination is required as part of the comprehensive examination in major fields for which the tests are available. The design of the comprehensive examination is to encourage and develop retentiveness throughout the student's entire college course and to test the student's ability to integrate the subject matter of his field.

A quality-point equivalent is established for each grade level on this examination, and the student's performance on it becomes a part of his total record. A grade of C carries no quality points; B, 5; A, 10. On the other hand, D deducts 5 quality points. A grade of F calls for a re-examination at one of the regular times for the comprehensive examination. Not more than two re-examinations will be given any student, and to entitle the student to graduation a passing grade must be attained within two years of the first failure. Re-examination is permitted only in case of failure.

The quality average of the student's course grades and his comprehensive examination must be C (standing of 2.0) or better on all work undertaken. This standing is computed by dividing the sum of quality points received on the comprehensive examination and all courses, by the total number of hours undertaken.

Graduation Honors

The distinction of Magna Cum Laude is conferred upon each graduate who has completed 60 or more semester hours of work at Maryville College and has attained for the full college course a standing of 3.8 for all credit hours undertaken.

The distinction of Cum Laude is conferred upon each graduate who has completed 60 or more semester hours of work at Maryville College and has attained for the full college course a standing of 3.3 for all credit hours undertaken.

Summer Term

The College offers a summer term of six weeks following the second semester. Courses are offered for which there is sufficient demand, usually including English, Bible, biology, economics, education, history, philosophy, political science, psychology, and sociology. College-preparatory courses are also given, without college credit, for those who desire to strengthen their foundation for college.

Expenses for the summer term, including fees, room, and board, are in the neighborhood of $260. If college-level courses are taken, 6 or 7 semester hours may be earned.

Admission to the summer term is on the same basis as for the regular semesters. Inquiries should be addressed to the Director of Admissions.

Graduate Study

Each year many graduates of Maryville College continue their education in graduate schools in courses leading to the master's and doctor's degrees. In a study by the National Academy of Sciences and the National Research Council, "Doctorate Production in United States Universities, 1920-1962," published in 1963, Maryville College was ranked in the top 17 percent of colleges and universities in the actual number of graduates earning doctorates. This record is the more striking when it is noted that most of the institutions in the top group have enrollments many times that of Maryville College.

Students who have graduate study in view should bear in mind that in nearly all universities a reading knowledge of French or German is required for the master's degree and of both French and German for the doctor's degree. By the end of his junior year the student looking toward graduate study should have selected the university, or at least the type of university, in which he plans to work, so as to be able to do his senior year's work along lines which will best prepare him for fulfilling the requirements of his chosen university.

Each year a number of seniors take various tests of the national Graduate Record Examination as part of their process in seeking admission to graduate schools. The Advanced Tests of the Graduate Record Examination are taken by all seniors in majors for which the tests are available, as a part of the Comprehensive Examination. Arrangements are also made for taking the Medical College Admission Test, the Law School Admission Test, and the National Teacher Examinations.

Transcripts of Credit

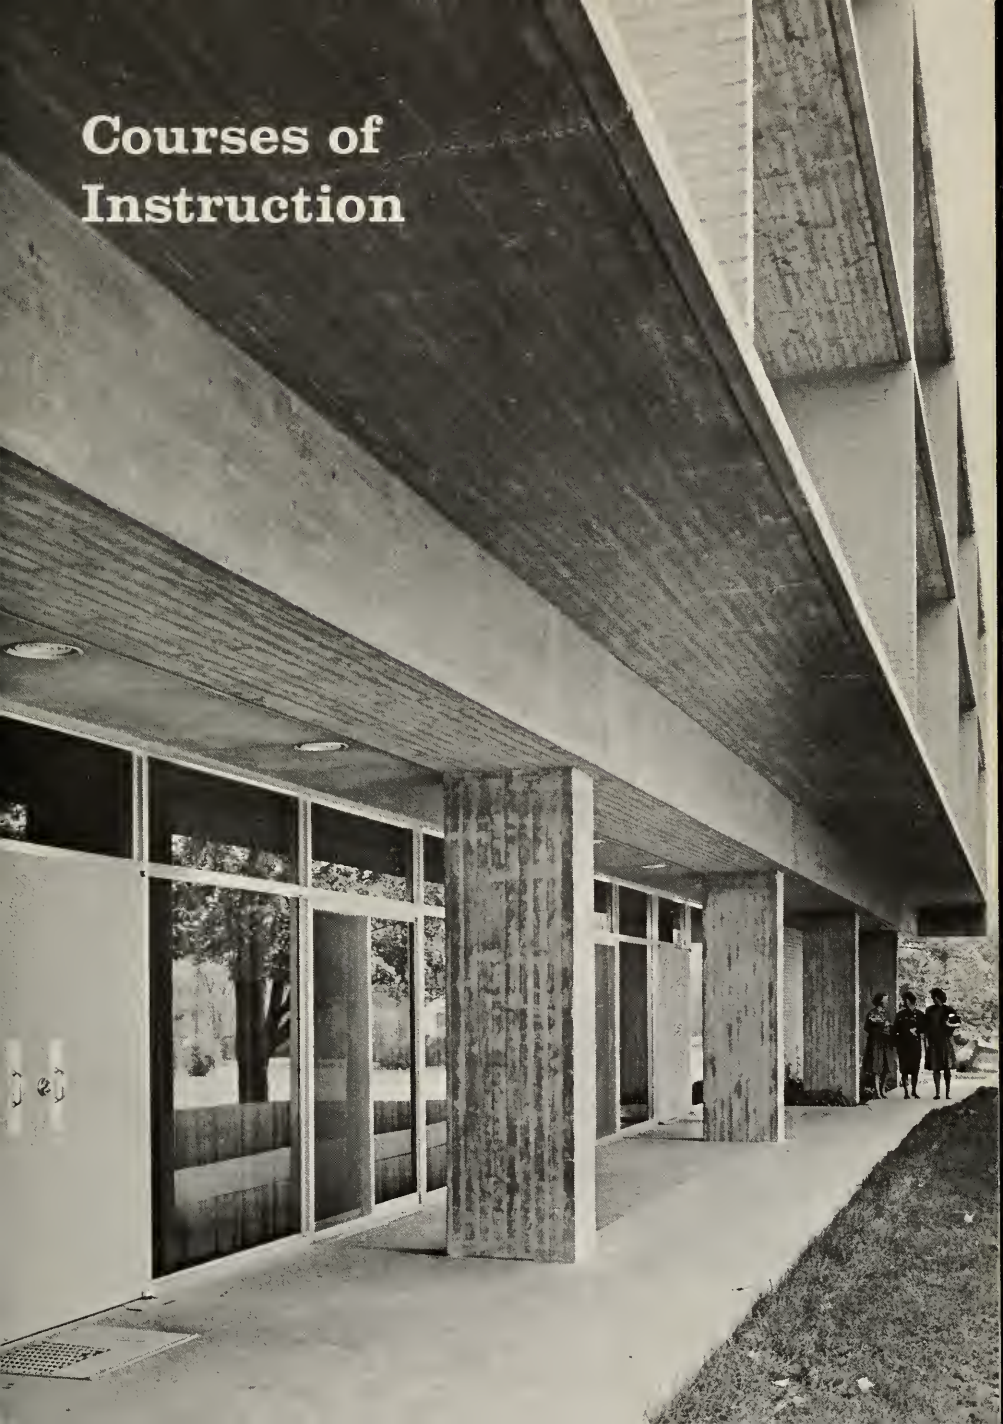
A transcript of credit, including statement of standing, will be issued by the Registrar on request. An official transcript will be sent to another institution or other authorized person or agency, but the student may receive only a non-official one. No transcript will be furnished until all accounts have been satisfactorily settled.

No charge is made for the first transcript when issued in the form adopted by the College. For additional copies and for the filling of special blanks, prepayment of $1.00 each is required.

Recommendations

The College endeavors to help its graduates to secure positions and seeks to assist those who are now employed. All seniors must register with the Alumni Office, to which all correspondence on this subject should be addressed. General letters of recommendation are not ordinarily given. Superintendents, principals, school officials, and others in need of the services of college graduates are invited to report vacancies, stating salary, character of work, and the like, and records will be forwarded for inspection. No charges are made to either party for these services.

Courses of Instruction



The courses in each field are numbered to indicate their level of advancement; "100" courses are of freshman rank; "200" courses are of sophomore rank; "300" courses are of junior-senior rank.

Course numbers written together joined by a hyphen (101-102) are continuous year-courses, not to be taken in reverse order or one without the other. Course numbers separated by a comma (201, 202) are year-courses with some continuity, but may be taken one without the other or in reverse order.

Courses given in alternate years are indicated, and the year in which they are next to be given is stated.

Art

Assistant Professor W. H. Swenson and Miss Mueller

The study of Art at Maryville is primarily a cultural activity, but it also provides the foundation for advanced training for many attractive vocational possibilities in the fields of fine and commercial arts.

Major in Art: 34 hours above freshman level (101, 102, 161, 162), including 261, 264, 265, 266, 351, 352, 361, 362, 363, 364, and 6 hours in art history. The sequence is modified for those planning to teach. See below.

Related courses required for the major in Art: Music 313, Philosophy 314; and Speech 102 or 204 or one course outside the Department recommended by the major adviser. The core requirement in foreign language may be taken in any language, but preferably French or German.

All courses in Art, both studio and art history, are open to advanced students from any field.

Students following the major in Art and wishing to be certified as public school teachers in the State of Tennessee must take Art 317 and the required Education courses: Psychology 201, Education 211, 212, 218, 308, 309, 310. Tennessee certification also requires additional general education courses. See pages 45, 46 for further information on teaching requirements.

Studio Art

161, 162. THE PRINCIPLES OF ART STRUCTURE — Two hours, each semester
A general study of the basic processes of artistic construction. Experiments in charcoal and other black and white media the first semester. Color is emphasized the second semester with use of pastel, watercolor, and tempera.
Four laboratory hours a week.

261. LIFE DRAWING — Three hours, first semester
A natural and creative study of the human figure, with consideration of the construction and anatomy of the human body.
Six laboratory hours a week.

264. DESIGN — Three hours, second semester
The study of basic design problems, stressing color, texture, and composition; application of these to forms related to industry and advertising.
Six laboratory hours a week.

265, 266. CERAMICS — Two hours, each semester
An introduction to the basic techniques of pottery, including throwing on the potter's wheel and hand-building by the coil, slab, and free-form methods, as well as different forms of glazing and decorating.
Four laboratory hours a week.

361. WATERCOLOR — Three hours, first semester
The study of transparent watercolor rendering. The use of casein and other opaque media.
Six laboratory hours a week.

362. SCULPTURE — Three hours, second semester
The study of abstract and representational sculpture. Applied work in clay, stone, plaster, iron, glass and wood.
Six laboratory hours a week.

363, 364. Oil Painting Three hours, each semester
The study of oil techniques applied to divers subject matter.
Six laboratory hours a week.

365, 366. Art Seminar Three hours, each semester
Independent study for students completing their art studio major requirements. The student selects the medium of his special interest.
Six laboratory hours a week.

Art History

101, 102. Introduction to Art Expression Two hours, each semester
A survey of architecture, sculpture, and painting, ancient to modern. Attention to basic principles of form, design, and composition through various media.

205. Renaissance Art Three hours, first semester
A study of the development of European art from the late fourteenth through the sixteenth centuries, with special attention to comparisons between the Italian view of the world and that of the northern countries.
Alternate years; to be given 1966-1967.

311. Contemporary Art Three hours, first semester
The development of painting in western culture beginning with the nineteenth century, with a study of the principles and needs of architectural and sculptural expression in Europe.
Alternate years; to be given 1965-1966.

313. Art Appreciation Three hours, second semester
A course designed for non-majors who wish to acquire an understanding and appreciation of the art of the contemporary world, as well as of the development of the great artistic periods of the past.

351, 352. Independent Study in Art Three hours, each semester
Individual study, with the guidance of a faculty supervisor, involving command of the forms and usages of the formal paper. Required for the major in Art. Ordinarily taken in the second junior and first senior semesters.

Art Education

217. Public School Art: Grades 1-9 Four hours, first semester
Essential art principles and materials which are used in the elementary schools and an introduction to the appreciation of art. For elementary Education majors only.
Studio practice, four hours a week; lecture, two hours.
Not to be counted toward the major in Art.

317. Public School Art: Grades 1-12 Three hours, second semester
Emphasis upon essential art principles, materials, and methods, in the elementary and high schools. Studio practice, four hours a week; lecture, one hour. This course is exclusively for Art majors preparing for teaching in the public schools.
Not to be counted toward the major in Art.

Bible and Christian Education

Associate Professors Horst and Tang, Assistant Professors Cummings, Griffin, Lindahl, and E. Swenson, and Mrs. McArthur

The major in Bible and Christian Education is designed primarily for those who wish to prepare for immediate employment in a local church as an unordained and uncommissioned worker in the area of Christian education. This includes those who plan for short-term employment rather than long professional service in this field. Those who intend to study in a theological school in the area of Christian education immediately following college graduation are advised to major in some other field. Specifically, this major offers a program of preparation for service as Assistant in Christian Education (Certified Church Educators) as defined by the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A.

Major in Bible and Christian Education: Bible, 9 hours above general requirement; Christian Education 302, 303, 312, 351, 352; Religion 204 and Philosophy 216; 6 hours from Religion 206, 307, 308, and 322. Independent Study may be done either in Bible or in Christian Education.

Related courses required for the major in Bible and Christian Education. Psychology 201, 219; two courses from Art 313, Music 308, Speech 310, Physical Education 311. The core requirement in foreign language may be taken in any language.

Bible

101. THE PENTATEUCH — Two hours, first semester
A study of the five books, Genesis through Deuteronomy, by individual books. Introductory units concerning the development of the canon and the history of the English Bible, Biblical geography, and method of study are included.
Required of all freshmen.

102. THE SYNOPTIC GOSPELS — Two hours, second semester
A study of the three gospels, Matthew, Mark, and Luke, with primary consideration of a selected one. Introductory units include a survey of Old Testament history, the history of the inter-testamental period, introduction to the New Testament, and method of study.
Required of all freshmen.

202. HEBREW POETRY Three hours, second semester
A study of the form and message of the poetical passages in the Hebrew Scriptures. Job through the Song of Songs and Lamentations.

206. GREEK NEW TESTAMENT Three hours, second semester
Attention to characteristics of Koine. Drill in forms and syntax. Practice in reading Greek from the Gospel of John and selected passages from the Synoptic Gospels.
Identical with Greek 206.

222. OLD TESTAMENT BOOK STUDIES Three hours, either semester
A study of the content of the Old Testament books from Joshua through Esther, with special emphasis on the religious interpretation of the history of the Hebrews.

235. JOHANNINE LITERATURE AND GENERAL EPISTLES Three hours, either semester
A study of the religious background and the theological and ethical teachings of the Johannine literature and the General Epistles, using the Biblical books as the basic text, supplemented with directed readings.

304. THE HEBREW PROPHETS Three hours, either semester
A study in the writings of the Hebrew prophets: their nature, historical setting, and cardinal ideas. Old Testament books Isaiah through Malachi.

306. THE INTER-TESTAMENTAL PERIOD Three hours, second semester
A study of Jewish history from Post-Exilic to New Testament times, including a study of the Apocrypha, selected books of the Pscudepigrapha, and the Dead Sea Scrolls. The message of these books will be studied in the light of the contribution they make to our understanding of Biblical literature.

314. PAUL'S LIFE AND LETTERS Three hours, either semester
A study of selected letters of Paul including the occasion of the writing and the content of each letter with emphasis on its basic Christian teachings. The course includes a preliminary study of The Acts of the Apostles as background for the letters.

351, 352. INDEPENDENT STUDY IN BIBLE Three hours, each semester
Individual study, with the guidance of a faculty supervisor, involving command of the forms and usages of the formal paper. Ordinarily taken in the second junior and first senior semesters.

Christian Education

251. PRACTICUM IN CHRISTIAN EDUCATION One-half hour, either semester
The problems and practice of leadership in church and church school.
Not applicable on the general graduation requirement in Philosophy-Christian Education-Religion.
One hour of supervised practice in the field each week.

302. COUNSELING AND GUIDANCE Three hours, second semester
A study of the theories of counseling and guidance and their application to the church vocations.

303. PRINCIPLES, ORGANIZATION, AND ADMINISTRATION Three hours, first semester
A study of the principles of Christian Education and of their application in the establishment and maintenance of the educational program of the local church. In addition to classroom instruction, this course includes one hour of supervised practice in the local church.
Prerequisite: Philosophy 216.

310. RELIGIOUS DRAMA AND PAGEANTRY Three hours, second semester
A study is made of available plays for use in churches or by church drama groups and of suitable production practices. Not applicable on the general requirement in Philosophy-Christian Education-Religion.
Identical with Speech 310.

312. MATERIALS AND METHODS Three hours, second semester
A study of available materials and methods in the field of Christian Education and practice in their use. In addition to classroom instruction, this course includes one hour of supervised practice in the local church.
Prerequisites: Psychology 201, 219.

351, 352. INDEPENDENT STUDY IN CHRISTIAN EDUCATION Three hours, each semester
Individual study, with the guidance of a faculty supervisor, involving command of the forms and usages of the formal paper. Ordinarily taken in the second junior and first senior semesters.

Biology

PROFESSOR SHIELDS, ASSISTANT PROFESSOR LYTLE, AND MR. WALLACE

Major in Biology: 30 hours above course 101-102, including courses 203-204, 205-206, and 351-352.

Related courses required for the major in Biology: Chemistry 303-304 and Physics 201-202. The core requirement in foreign language will be taken preferably in German or Russian, but another language may be taken for reasons acceptable to the major adviser. Students planning to take an advanced degree in Biology will be expected to have a reading knowledge of two languages.

Students following the Biology major who wish to qualify for admission to medical school should include Biology 211 and Chemistry 201-202.

101-102. General Biology Four hours, each semester

A study of the basic biological laws and principles. The two semesters are continuous, the first being a treatment of the chemistry and physics of life processes and the structure of living things; the second relates these to a survey of the plant and animal kingdoms.
Prerequisite to all advanced courses in Biology.*
Laboratory practice, three hours a week; lecture, three hours.

*A student showing by examination adequate background in Biology will not be required to take Biology 101-102. A score of 3 or above on Advanced Placement Biology will exempt the student from this course.

Those who plan to enter medical school should take instead Chemistry 201-202 in the sophomore year and both Chemistry 303-304 and Physics 201-202 in the junior year.

203-204. General Botany Four hours, each semester
First semester: Physiology and morphology of plants.
Second semester: A survey of the plant kingdom, with emphasis on the evolution and taxonomy of flowering plants. A field course.
Laboratory practice, six hours a week; lecture, two hours.

205-206. General Zoology Four hours, each semester
First semester: A survey of the invertebrate groups.
Second semester: A comparative study of the morphology and evolution of the vertebrates. The two semesters are continuous.
Laboratory practice, six hours a week; lecture, two hours.

208. Human Anatomy and Physiology Four hours, first semester
A study of the human body as a functional unit. For majors in Health and Physical Education. Not to be counted on the major in Biology.
Identical with Health 208.
Laboratory practice, three hours a week; lecture, three hours.

211. General Bacteriology Four hours, first semester
The physiology, morphology, and phylogenetic relationships of bacteria, emphasizing methods of culture and isolation.
Laboratory practice, six hours a week; lecture, two hours.

212. Genetics Four hours, second semester
A study of the basic concepts of heredity. Gene action as it relates to cell differentiation and evolution of living things.
Laboratory practice, three hours a week; lecture, three hours.

307. General Physiology Four hours, second semester
A study of the basic physiological processes at the cellular level.
Prerequisites: Chemistry 303-304 and Biology 203-204, 205-206.
Laboratory practice, three hours a week; lecture, three hours.

311. Vertebrate Embryology Four hours, first semester
A study of the morphological development of the vertebrate embryo. A detailed study of the vertebrate tissues is included. The embryos of the chick and pig are used.
Prerequisite: Biology 205-206.
Laboratory practice, three hours a week; lecture, three hours.

320. General Ecology Four hours, second semester
A study of ecological principles as they relate to the distribution of plants and animals. A field course.
Prerequisites: Biology 203-204, 205-206.
Laboratory practice, six hours a week; lecture, two hours.

351, 352. Independent Study in Biology Three hours, each semester
Individual study, with the guidance of a faculty supervisor, involving command of the forms and usages of the formal paper. Required for the major in Biology. Ordinarily taken in the senior year.

Chemistry

Professors Griffitts and Howell and Assistant Professor Young

The curriculum in Chemistry follows the requirements of the American Chemical Society for the professional education of chemists. At the same time it provides excellent preparation for the graduate study of Chemistry.

Major in Chemistry: 32 hours above course 101-102, including 305-306, 351, 352.

Related courses required for the major in Chemistry: Physics 201-202, Mathematics 205-206. The core requirement in foreign language will be taken in French, German, or Russian, but usually German.

Students following the Chemistry major who wish to qualify for admission to medical school should include Biology 101-102 (or 205-206) and

311. (Students who show by examination adequate background in Biology may take Biology 205-206 instead of 101-102.)

111-112. INTRODUCTORY CHEMISTRY — Four hours, each semester

This course is offered for students who do not plan to follow a major in science or to take additional courses in chemistry. The laws, theories, and applications of chemistry are studied from a non-technical point of view.
Not to be substituted for Chemistry 101-102.
Laboratory practice, two hours a week; lecture, three hours.

101-102. GENERAL CHEMISTRY — Four hours, each semester

A technical course. A study of the principles of theoretical chemistry and a descriptive study of the more important metallic and non-metallic elements. Attention by means of laboratory work to methods of preparation, physical and chemical properties of common elements and compounds, with a view to giving a scientific approach to methods of investigation.
Prerequisite to all advanced courses in Chemistry.
Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture, two hours.

201. QUALITATIVE ANALYSIS — Four hours, first semester

Lecture work consisting of a study of the fundamental theories underlying the principles of separation and identification of the common basic and acidic ions. Laboratory work consisting of the systematic separation and identification of the common ions in unknown combinations by the semi-micro procedures.
Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture, two hours.

202. QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS — Four hours, second semester

Lecture work devoted to analytical principles and stoichiometry. Laboratory drill in the standard methods of volumetric, gravimetric, and electrolytic analysis.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 201.
Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture, two hours.

303-304. ORGANIC CHEMISTRY — Four hours, each semester

A general survey of the organic compounds with special attention to their reactions, methods of preparation, and uses. Laboratory work consisting of preparations and of study of both physical and chemical properties of the substances prepared.
Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture, two hours.

305-306. PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY — Four hours, each semester

A study of the physical and mathematical foundations of many chemical principles. Attention to such topics as states of aggregation, thermodynamics, solutions, equilibrium, chemical kinetics, electrochemistry, atomic structure.
Prerequisites: Chemistry 201, 202, 303-304, and advanced Mathematics and Physics.
Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture, two hours.

351. INDEPENDENT STUDY IN CHEMISTRY: ADVANCED QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS — Four hours, first semester

Laboratory work involving special equipment and techniques, such as difficult volumetric titrations, gas, electro, colorimetric, and potentiometric methods. Conferences, discussions, and library work treat of the theory and stoichiometry of these subjects.

*Those who expect to enter medical school should take also Biology 101-102 (or 205-206) and 311. (Students who show by examination adequate background in Biology may take Biology 205-206 instead of 101-102. A score of 3 or above on the Advanced Placement Biology will exempt the student from this course.)

352. Independent Study in Chemistry: Qualitative Organic Analysis
Four hours, second semester
Laboratory work involving a study of the techniques of both macro- and microanalysis of organic compounds.

Economics and Business

Assistant Professor Hileman and Mr. Navratil

Study in Business and Economics provides a flexible basis for careers in several growing areas. The major in Business gives a foundation for a wide variety of opportunities in business and industry and furnishes also strong preparation for graduate study in Business Administration and in specific business fields such as Marketing. The major in Economics is also suited to vocational work in commerce and industry, but it emphasizes study primarily related to work as a professional economist in education, business, or government. Preparation for graduate study is stressed in the Economics major.

Major in Economics: 30 hours, including courses 201, 202, 306, 312, 313, 330, 351, 352.

Major in Business: 30 hours, including courses 201, 202, 303, 315, 325, 326, 351, 352.

Related courses required for the major in Economics or Business: Mathematics 121-122, History 215 or 216, Political Science 201, and Sociology 201. The core requirement in foreign language may be taken in any language.

The four-year curriculum for the major in Economics or Business:

Freshman Year		Sophomore Year
English 101-102 or 103-104	6	Economics 201, 202	6

Major and Related Courses	27	Philosophy-Christian Education-Religion	3
Bible	6	Electives	23
Philosophy 311	3

201, 202. Principles of Economics Three hours, each semester
An introduction to the subject of economics, emphasizing the basic concepts and the fundamental logic of economics. Consideration of the organization, operation, and problems of our present-day economic system, with concentration on current vital economic problems and alternative policies concerning them.

303. Principles of Management Three hours, first semester
An introduction to management which relates traditional treatments of the subject to modern quantitative and behavioral research. Emphasis is placed on theory, concepts, and analysis rather than on detailed descriptions and formulas. The aim is to develop a critical attitude toward all management thought. Within this context are considered such traditional industrial management subjects as production control, quality control, wage incentives, inventory control, organization, and time and motion study. Use is made of cases and of extracts from important writings in the field.
Alternate years; to be given 1965-1966.

306. MONEY AND BANKING Three hours, second semester
A study of the principles of money and banking. Consideration of the origin, nature, and function of money; the relationship between spending, output, and price levels; the history of monetary standards in the United States; credit and credit instruments; commercial banking; the Federal Government and monetary management; an introduction to monetary theory and international finance.
Alternate years; to be given 1966-1967.

312. TAXATION AND PUBLIC FINANCE Three hours, first semester
A study of public expenditures and public revenues as returns from fees, taxes, and public debts. A thorough study of the operation and economics of the tax system now in use and the dispensing of these funds.
Alternate years; to be given 1966-1967.

313. LABOR Three hours, second semester
A study of labor emphasizing the development, structure, and functions of labor unions and the role of public policy. Economic factors in wage determination are also considered.
Identical with Sociology 313.
Alternate years; to be given 1966-1967.

315. PRINCIPLES OF ACCOUNTING Three hours, second semester
A beginning study of accounting covering the general journal, ledger, profit and loss statement, balance sheet, special journals, subsidiary ledgers, the accounting cycle (with adjusting, closing, and reversing of entries), notes and interest, deferred and accrued items, valuation of current assets, valuation of fixed assets (depreciation), and the voucher system.

322. BUSINESS LAW Three hours, first semester
Legal problems which most frequently arise in industry, commerce, and the home. Problems of property, contracts, agency, sales, and negotiable paper.

323. GOVERNMENT AND BUSINESS Three hours, second semester
A study of the economic, legal, and political relations between government and business. Emphasis is on anti-trust policy in the United States.
Identical with Political Science 323.
Alternate years; to be given 1965-1966.

325. CORPORATION FINANCE Three hours, second semester
A combination descriptive and analytical study emphasizing the application of principles of corporation finance to particular problems. Extensive use is made of case problems. Concentration on the following topics: the nature of the corporation, instruments of corporation finance, promotion and capitalization, the financial plan, refinancing, short-term and intermediate-term financing, income determination, surplus and dividend policy, and expansion and merger.
Alternate years; to be given 1965-1966.

326. MARKETING PRINCIPLES Three hours, first semester
A study of the fundamentals of marketing with special emphasis on the consumer and his relationship to our retailing and wholesaling systems. Attention to the various marketing functions, to marketing policies, and to marketing costs.
Alternate years; to be given 1966-1967.

330. INTERMEDIATE ECONOMIC THEORY Three hours, first semester
A survey of economic theory. Special attention to the analysis of consumer demand, the theory of production and the demand for factor units, the nature and behavior of cost, price and output determination, the nature of profit and rent, the determination of interest rates and wages, and the determinants of national income.
Alternate years; to be given 1965-1966.

351, 352. INDEPENDENT STUDY IN ECONOMICS AND BUSINESS Three hours, each semester
Individual study, with the guidance of a faculty supervisor, involving command of the forms and usages of the formal paper. Required for the major in Economics and Business. Ordinarily taken in the second junior and first senior semesters.

Education

PROFESSOR BRIGGS AND ASSISTANT PROFESSORS KRAMER AND ROBERTSON

The student planning to teach in secondary school should not major in Education but in the principal subject which he plans to teach. In addition he should take care to elect courses in Education and Psychology needed to meet certification requirements in the state in which he expects to teach. He should keep in touch with the Education faculty and the Dean's Office in planning his program. It is often advantageous to take professional Education courses in the summer or after graduation to allow more time for the subject major. See further information below under Secondary Education.

The student planning to teach in elementary school should follow the major in Elementary Education described below. The program outlined here is designed to follow the regulations of the Tennessee State Board of Education for certification in grades 1-9. Each state has minor special requirements of its own which usually may be met by approved substitution but occasionally will require summer attendance at a teachers college in the state of one's choice.

Major in Elementary Education: Courses 211, 212, 218, 308, 345, 346, 351, 352, 355. Psychology 201 is considered a part of this major.

Related courses required for the major in Elementary Education: Art 217, Biology 101, English 224, Geography 232, Music 342, Chemistry 111-112 or Physics 101-102, Speech 101 or 104, one course in Social Science; 8 semester hours (must include at least two courses in Health) from these: Health 208, 309, 216; Home Economics 102, 304 (may be counted as Health); Psychology 312, Sociology 306, Physical Education 311. Mathematics 112 is also required, except that it may be omitted if the student passes a proficiency test in the subject or completes Mathematics 101-102 or 103-104.

Courses Common to Elementary and Secondary Teacher Preparation

211. History of Education — Three hours, first semester
A study of historical backgrounds of modern education from earliest times to the present. Emphasis upon the social and intellectual foundations of Western education with special focus on developments in the United States.
Identical with History 211.

212. Philosophy of Education — Three hours, second semester
Consideration of some questions about the educational process that perennially confront the teacher. The answers suggested by differing philosophies of education are studied with reference to their influence on the teacher's task in society.
Identical with Philosophy 212.

218. Educational Psychology — Three hours, either semester
Consideration of the physical, social, and psychological factors which underlie and influence the learning process. The responsibility of the home and school in mental, physical, emotional, social. moral, and spiritual growth.
Prerequisite, Psychology 201.

219. Psychology of Childhood and Adolescence — Three hours, second semester
A study of the growth and development of the child from birth to maturity. The various aspects of growth, including physical, intellectual, social, and emotional, will be considered as they relate to various stages of maturity.
Prerequisite, Psychology 201.
Identical with Psychology 219.

308. Educational Tests and Measurements — Three hours, first semester
Mastery of statistical techniques with practice in working and interpreting a variety of problems involving educational and psychological data.
Prerequisite, Education 218.

Elementary Education

345, 346. Curriculum for the Elementary School — Four hours, each semester
A study of specific understandings and skills needed in teaching science, health, social studies, arithmetic, and language arts for Grades K-9. Provision for developing teaching plans: objectives, procedures, materials, and evaluation. Opportunity for developing resource units and putting into practice the theories. Provision for observing and assisting a classroom teacher in action. Attention to classroom management and control.
Prerequisite or parallel Education 218.

355. Supervised Teaching, Grades 1-9 — Nine hours, either semester
Teaching experience in an elementary-school classroom under direction of the classroom teacher and the college supervisor of student teaching. Three hundred hours or more of observing, assisting, teaching, and individual and group conferences with classroom teacher and college supervisor.
Prerequisites, Psychology 201, Education 218, 345, 346.

351, 352. Independent Study in Elementary Education Three hours, each semester
Individual study, with the guidance of a faculty supervisor, involving command of the forms and usages of the formal paper. Required for the major in Elementary Education. Ordinarily taken in the senior year.

Secondary Education

Requirements for high school certification vary somewhat in the different states. The professional Education courses required for Tennessee secondary certification (grades 7-12) are Education 211, 212, 218, 303, 308, 309, 310. Tennessee certification in Art, in Health and Physical Education, and in Music is for grades 1-12, and the requirements for certification will be found in connection with the course descriptions in these areas. Some modification of these courses may be required for certification in other states.

General Education Requirements: Tennessee certification requires also, in addition to the Maryville College core requirements, one course from the following: Health 203, 208, 216, 309, Psychology 312, Home Economics 102, 304, Sociology 306, Mathematics 112, 101-102, 103-104. One core elective must be taken in Social Science.

Requirements for certification for high school teaching in Tennessee (in addition to Maryville College core and major requirements) are outlined by years below:

Freshman Year

Science	4	Science	4

Sophomore Year

Psychology 201	3	Education 212	3
Education 211	3

Junior Year

Education 218	3	Education 303	3
Education 308	3	Health or Pers. Dev.; or Math	3

Senior Year

Education 309, 310	6	*Social Science	3

303. Methods in Secondary Education Three hours, second semester
The techniques of high school teaching, including methods, materials, guidance, classroom management; demonstration and use of audio-visual aids. In preparation for the class work the student is scheduled for a weekly conference with a teacher in the selected teaching field. Prerequisite, Education 218.

309, 310. Supervised Teaching, Grades 7-12 Three hours, each semester
The application of general and special methods to practical teaching situations in the high school. Frequent conferences with the college supervisor of student teaching. Laboratory five hours a week at the high school; conference one hour a week with the faculty supervisor; a total of approximately one hundred hours a semester in observation, teaching, and conferences.
Seniors are eligible who have completed Psychology 201, Education 211, 212, 218, 303, and have the approval of the supervisor of student teaching and of the department represented by the subject in which the teaching is to be done. The teaching must be done in the field of the student's major or in a subject in which he has completed an acceptable teaching minor. Those beginning this program too late may be able to meet the requirements by attending summer school.

English

Professors Jackson, Blair, and Hunter, Associate Professors Bushing, Johnson, and Zimmerman, Mr. Hoch, and Mrs. Webb

Major in English: 30 hours above courses 101-102 or 103-104 and 205-206, including courses 331 and 351-352. Students who expect to teach English in high school should take American Literature.

Related courses required for the major in English: History 209, 210, Philosophy 217. The core requirement in foreign language will be taken preferably in Latin, French, or German; another language may be taken for reasons acceptable to the major adviser, but students planning to go to graduate school will do well to take French or German.

*May be taken first semester by students who prefer to complete Education 309, 310 second semester.

The assignment of students to freshman English is determined by performance on a placement examination involving the basic matters of usage: grammar, sentence structure, punctuation, spelling, reading comprehension.

The four-year curriculum for the major in English:

Freshman Year		Sophomore Year
English 101-2 or 103-4	6	English 205, 206	6

Philosophy 311	3
Core Electives	6
Electives	19

101-102. ENGLISH COMPOSITION I Three hours, each semester
First semester: Primary attention to mastery of the fundamentals of English usage. Introduction to the materials of writing and reading. Some attention to outline making.
Second semester: Outline making, oral delivery of speeches developed from outlines. Library method, the preparation of library papers in accordance with scholarly method. Increased attention to the writing and reading objectives of the preceding semester.

103-104. ENGLISH COMPOSITION II Three hours, each semester
First semester: Attention to the individual student's understanding of the reasons underlying the principles of usage as well as to his ability to apply them. Introduction to the materials of writing and reading on an advanced level. Some attention to outline making.
Second semester: Oral delivery of speeches developed from outlines. Library method, the preparation of library papers in accordance with scholarly method. Increased attention to advanced-level projects in writing and reading.
For freshmen whose performance on the English placement examination indicates superior preparation for college English.

205-206. WESTERN WORLD LITERATURE Three hours, each semester
A year course including some of the world's literary masterpieces in English translation and a selection of outstanding masterworks written in English from the earliest times to the present. A course primarily designed to develop acquaintance and to arouse appreciation.
Required of all students, normally in the sophomore year.

224. CHILDREN'S LITERATURE Three hours, first semester
A course designed to acquaint students with literature for children, its authors and illustrators. Attention to criteria for selecting books, stories, and poems to meet basic and individual needs of children.

321. TWENTIETH CENTURY POETRY AND CRITICISM Three hours, first semester
Reading and study of the poetry of leading British and American writers of the century. Attention to an understanding of the scope and meaning of poetry and of trends in criticism.
Alternate years; to be given 1966-1967.

327. THE NOVEL IN ENGLISH Three hours, first semester
The evolution of the novel. A study of a few of the master novels of the English tradition.
Alternate years; to be given 1966-1967.

328. MAJOR AMERICAN WRITERS Three hours, first semester
After a preliminary survey of the Colonial period, attention will be focused upon such authors as Poe, Emerson, Thoreau, Hawthorne, Melville, Whitman, Twain, James.
Alternate years; to be given 1965-1966.

329. ADVANCED GRAMMAR AND COMPOSITION Three hours, second semester
Grammar beyond the fundamentals: traditional, structural, and transformational, with principal attention to the last. Emphasis in composition on awareness of the resources of the English language and on stylistic experiment.
Alternate years on sufficient demand; to be given 1966-1967.

330. The Drama in English Three hours, second semester
Study of the evolution of the drama from the beginnings as part of the liturgy of the Church to the end of the nineteenth century. A study of specimens of the form from all periods.
Alternate years; to be given 1965-1966.

331. Introduction to the Study of Language Three hours, second semester
The history and growth of language, with special attention to English as illustrative of the general processes of semantics and of modern linguistic study.
Alternate years; to be given 1965-1966.

332. English Literature of the Middle English Period Three hours, first semester
The development of romance themes and forms. Principal attention to Chaucer; reading of the Canterbury Tales and Troilus and Criseyde.
Alternate years; to be given 1965-1966.

334. Shakspere Three hours, second semester
Somewhat intensive reading and discussion of about twelve of Shakspere's plays so selected as to present all the types. Supplemental reading in biographies and critical materials.

337. English Literature of the Seventeenth Century Three hours, first semester
Study of the prose and poetry of the seventeenth century to Dryden, exclusive of the drama, especially in relation to the life and thought of the time; emphasis on the works of Milton.
Alternate years; to be given 1965-1966.

338. English Literature of the Eighteenth Century Three hours, second semester
Reading and study of materials of the Neo-classical period, with special attention to the writings and influence of Dryden and Pope; reading in the materials of the great prose writers of the period: Addison, Steele, Defoe, Swift, Johnson, Boswell.
Alternate years; to be given 1965-1966.

339. English Literature of the Romantic Movement Three hours, first semester
The literature of the Romantic movement. Emphasis on the major Romantics, especially as they reflect the social and intellectual life of the time.
Alternate years; to be given 1966-1967.

340. English Literature of the Victorian Period Three hours, second semester
The literature of the Victorian Age. A study of the literature against the backdrop of social, scientific, and philosophic developments of the nineteenth century: Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, Ruskin, Arnold, and others.
Alternate years, to be given 1966-1967.

351, 352. Independent Study in English Three hours, each semester
Individual study, with the guidance of a faculty supervisor, involving command of the forms and usages of the formal paper. Required for the major in English. Ordinarily taken in the second junior and first senior semesters.

Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture, one hour.
Alternate years; to be given 1966-1967.

306. Marriage and the Family Three hours, either semester
A study of the sociology of the family, emphasizing its historical development and its transition in contemporary American society. Consideration is given to the scientific and functional aspects of interaction in the dating, courtship, engagement, marital, and parental situations. Identical with Sociology 306.

307. Household Management, Consumer Education Three hours, second semester
A study of the nature of the family income and of problems related to its source and distribution. Consideration of the family budget, standards of living, changing expenditures under changing conditions. Special problems in selection and purchase of food, housing, clothing, and other commodities. Reference and topical work required. First half of the semester.
A study of the consumer's responsibility in relation to development in standardization of products. Correlation between values and costs. Special emphasis on government specification, labeling, advertising, salesmanship, and purchasing technique. Brief study of specific commodities and special problems involved. Second half of the semester.
Alternate years; to be given 1965-1966.

308. Tailoring Three hours, second semester
A study of tailoring methods and techniques. Adaptability of fabric and line to tailoring processes. Special attention to selection, construction, and fitting of a lined suit or coat and contributing accessory garments.
Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture, one hour.
Alternate years; to be given 1966-1967.

312A. Experimental Techniques in Home Economics Two hours, first semester
Study of the techniques employed in experimental and demonstration work.
Alternate years; to be given 1966-1967.

312B. Home Management House One hour, either semester
Study of time schedules, housekeeping, and homemaking. Three weeks residence period.
Prerequisite or parallel: Home Economics 307. Senior standing.

317, 318. Institutional Management, Quantity Buying Three hours, each semester
A study of meal planning, preparation and service on a quantity basis. Attention to matters of menu making, accounting, catering, organization, management.
A study of large quantity marketing and its relation to the administration of institutional cooking and management; practice in the preparation of one meal a day on different plans: tea room, restaurant, cafeteria.
Laboratory practice, six hours a week.

351, 352. Independent Study in Home Economics Three hours, each semester
Individual study, with the guidance of a faculty supervisor, involving command of the forms and usages of the formal paper. Required for the major in Home Economics. Ordinarily taken in the second junior and first senior semesters.

Mathematics and Physics

Professor Tolar, Assistant Professors Hicks and Ritchie, and Mr. Dent

Major in Mathematics: Courses 205-206, 254, 311, 312, 313, 314, 351-352, and two additional "300" courses. Students preparing for graduate study in Physics will substitute at least four "300" Physics courses for the two additional "300" Mathematics courses.

Related courses required for the major: Physics 201-202 for students who have had a high school unit in Physics. Other students are advised to take Physics 101-102 in the freshman year. The core requirement in foreign language will be taken in a modern language; those who anticipate graduate work should take French or German. Suggested electives in the Sophomore year are Psychology 201, Economics 201; in the Junior year Political Science 201, 202 or Economics 201, 202 is recommended.

Computer courses are available in the Department of Mathematics of the University of Tennessee in cooperation with the Computing Center, and may be taken as part of a class load at no additional cost. Either an introductory course for science and mathematics students with two years of college mathematics or a three-course sequence for students wishing to become computer scientists may be taken. Each course meets two class hours and a two-hour laboratory for a quarter and counts as two semester hours. No student may take any of these without the permission of the chairman of this department.

Mathematics

101-102. FRESHMAN MATHEMATICS — Four hours, each semester
A year course covering such topics as the number system, symbolic logic, functions and elements of analytic geometry.
Prerequisites: One unit of algebra and one unit of plane geometry.

103-104. ADVANCED FRESHMAN MATHEMATICS — Four hours, each semester
A year course for the gifted student with superior preparation in mathematics.
First semester: Analytical trigonometry, exponential functions and plane analytical geometry.
Second semester: General second degree equations and the calculus of algebraic functions.
Mathematics 205 may be taken in place of Mathematics 104.
Prerequisites: Three units of mathematics including trigonometry, a superior high school record and a high score on the mathematics placement examination.

112. BASIC MATHEMATICS Four hours, second semester
A course dealing with functional arithmetic, mathematical proof and logic, mathematical functions and their relationships. Required for the major in Elementary Education. Not to be counted on major in Mathematics or as a core elective.

121-122. BUSINESS MATHEMATICS AND STATISTICS Four hours, each semester
This course is designed for Economics and Business students. Topics included are algebraic operations, equations, and elementary statistical methods. Students may take 101-122 as a sequence. No student who has completed 101 may take 121 and receive credit for both.
Prerequisite: Two units of Mathematics.

205-206. DIFFERENTIAL AND INTEGRAL CALCULUS Four hours, each semester
First semester: Differentiation and integration of algebraic functions with applications from geometry and the sciences. Second semester: Differentiation and integration of transcendental functions with applications from geometry and the sciences. Mathematics 104 may be taken in place of Mathematics 205.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 101-102 or 103.

254. VECTOR ANALYTICS Three hours, second semester
Analytic geometry of two and three dimensions by vector analysis and some study of determinants.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 104 or 205.

304. MODERN ALGEBRA Three hours, second semester
A beginning course in Modern Algebra including groups, rings, integral domains and fields.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 206.
To be given 1966-1967 and biennially thereafter.

307. PROBABILITY AND STATISTICS Three hours, first semester
Probability and its relation to statistical theory; multiple and partial correlation; regression curves, applications to statistical and quality control. Students taking this course and qualifying for the secondary teaching certificate will not take Education 308.
Prerequisite or parallel: Mathematics 206.
To be given 1965-1966 and biennially thereafter.

308. NUMERICAL ANALYSIS Three hours, second semester
A first course in numerical computation, the approximating polynomial, and numerical solution of algebraic and transcendental equations by geometric and arithmetic methods.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 311.
To be given 1965-1966 and biennially thereafter.

309. GRAPHICAL ANALYSIS Three hours, first semester
Methods of analyzing and sketching algebraic and transcendental functions; formation of alignment charts.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 206. To be given 1966-1967 and biennially thereafter.

311. CALCULUS III Three hours, first semester
Multiple integrals, implicit functions, partial differentiation and applications, maxima and minima, envelopes, and infinite series.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 206.

312. DIFFERENTIAL EQUATIONS Three hours, second semester
Equations of the first order and the first degree; equations of the first order and higher degrees; equations of the second order and applications to geometrical and physical problems.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 311.

313. ANALYSIS Three hours, first semester
A senior course including such topics as real number system, sequences, series, limits, continuity, differentiation and integration.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 312.

314. LINEAR ALGEBRA Three hours, second semester
Linear equations, vector spaces, linear transformations, polynomials, determinants and matrices.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 312.

351, 352. INDEPENDENT STUDY IN MATHEMATICS Three hours, each semester
Individual study, with the guidance of a faculty supervisor, involving command of the forms and usages of the formal paper. Required for the major in Mathematics. Ordinarily taken in the senior year.

Physics

101-102. INTRODUCTORY PHYSICS Four hours, each semester
A college level course in introductory physics for students who have had no physics in high school. Not open to students with credit in high school physics.
Laboratory practice, three hours a week; lecture, three hours.

201-202. GENERAL PHYSICS Four hours, each semester
An introduction to basic physical principles, including some modern developments. First semester: mechanics, heat, and sound. Second semester: electricity and magnetism, light, and modern physics.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 101-102; a unit of high school physics is recommended.
Laboratory practice, three hours a week; lecture, three hours.

305. ELECTRONICS Four hours, first semester
A laboratory course covering electron emission, vacuum tubes and other active electronic devices, and circuits incorporating such devices.
Prerequisites: Physics 202 and Mathematics 206.
Laboratory practice, three hours a week; lecture, three hours.
Alternate years; to be given 1966-1967.

311. ATOMIC PHYSICS Four hours, first semester
A laboratory course covering charged particles in fields, wave-particle concepts, atomic spectra and atomic structure.
Prerequisites: Physics 202 and Mathematics 206.
Laboratory practice, three hours a week; lecture, three hours.
Alternate years; to be given 1965-1966.

312. NUCLEAR PHYSICS Four hours, second semester
A continuation of 311. Natural radioactivity, artificial processes, fission, fundamental particles, accelerators, and special relativity.
Prerequisite: Physics 311.
Laboratory practice, three hours a week; lecture, three hours.
Given on sufficient demand.

316. PHYSICAL OPTICS Four hours, second semester
A study of wave motion, interference, diffraction polarization, and an introduction to modern concepts of light.
Prerequisites: Physics 202 and Mathematics 206.
Laboratory practice, three hours a week; lecture, three hours.
Given on sufficient demand.

320. MECHANICS Three hours, second semester
An intermediate vector treatment of the basic theorems of classical mechanics, particularly kinematics and dynamics, free and forced oscillations, central force fields, translation and rotation of rigid bodies.
Prerequisites: Physics 202; Mathematics 311 may be taken concurrently.
Alternate years; to be given 1966-1967.

322. THERMODYNAMICS Three hours, second semester
An intermediate course with emphasis on basic principles and including an introduction to the kinetic theory of gases and elementary statistical mechanics.
Prerequisite: Physics 202.
Given on sufficient demand.

324. ELECTROMAGNETICS Three hours, second semester
An intermediate course covering both static and dynamic phenomena, with emphasis on the field viewpoint. Elementary vector calculus is introduced and employed throughout the course.
Prerequisites: Physics 202; Mathematics 311 may be taken concurrently.
Alternate years, to be given 1965-1966.

330. INTRODUCTION TO MATHEMATICAL PHYSICS Three hours, second semester
A course designed to acquaint the student with vector analysis, Fourier and Laplace transformations and other special methods of mathematical analysis utilized in the solution of physical problems.
Prerequisites: Physics 201-202 and one intermediate physics course advised; Mathematics 312 may be taken concurrently.
Given on sufficient demand.

Medical Technology

ELGIN P. KINTNER, M.D., Pathologist and Director of School of Medical Technology, Blount Memorial Hospital
EDWARD M. KELMAN, M.D., Associate Pathologist
LOUISE MARSH, M. T. (ASCP), Chief Medical Technologist

The major in Medical Technology is offered through a cooperative arrangement with the School of Medical Technology of the Blount Memorial Hospital, which adjoins the college campus. This School is fully accredited by the American Medical Association. All of the work in Medical Technology, including Independent Study, is given at the Hospital.

The four-year course leads to the Bachelor of Science degree and registration as a medical technologist. The examination of the Registry of Medical Technologists of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists is accepted by the College as the comprehensive examination in the major field.

The work of the first three years of the course is taken entirely at the College. The fourth year, including a summer of full-time work, is taken at Blount Memorial Hospital. Upon satisfactory completion of the course in Medical Technology and the Independent Study, and after passing the examination of the Registry of Medical Technologists, the student is granted the Bachelor of Science degree by the College.

Application for entry to the School of Medical Technology should be made to the Director of the School by each student who selects this major at the beginning of the freshman year and in no case later than the beginning of the junior year. At the time of application arrangement will be made for the student to take the aptitude test in the field of medical technology administered by the Department of Employment Security of the State of Tennessee. The capacity of the School, however, is limited; applicants are accepted on the basis of scholarship and over-all fitness for the profession.

Students who find it necessary to attend another school of medical technology are advised to take either the Biology or the Chemistry major leading to the Bachelor of Science degree. Either of these majors will qualify the student for admission to any of the 700 schools of medical technology accredited by the Amercian Medical Association. It is also possible to enter a school of medical technology after completing the first three years of the curriculum outlined below. In this case, however, the Bachelor of Science degree would not be received after completion of the medical technology course.

Major in Medical Technology: 30 hours in Medical Technology, including Independent Study.

Related courses required for the major in Medical Technology: Biology 101-102, 206, 211, Chemistry 101-102, 201-202, and Mathematics 112. The core requirement in foreign language will be taken in French or German.

Music

Professor Harter, Associate Professor Bloy, Assistant Professors Kinsinger, K. Perry, Roberts, S. Schoen, and V. Schoen, Mr. Mize, and Mrs. Perry

The study of music at Maryville provides both a cultural activity and a foundation for advanced training in music as a vocation in public schools, colleges, churches, private studios, music libraries, and other music fields. Since the College is an accredited liberal arts college member of the National Association of Schools of Music, the music offerings follow the general requirements of the graduate schools which enroll a large percentage of Maryville graduates in music.

Concentration is offered in Applied Music, Music Theory and Literature, and Music Education. Students interested in Church Music should follow the concentration in Organ or Voice, with Music 308, 321, and Christian Education 303.

Major in Music: 42 to 54 hours above courses 101-102; the basic core for all majors includes courses 201-202, 225, 226, 351, 352 and one hour of ensemble credit. A piano proficiency test must be passed by the end of the junior year.

Related courses required for the major in Music: Psychology 201 and one 3-hour course in Art History. The core requirement in foreign language will be taken in French or German.

Applied Music: Work in applied music is available also for those not majoring in music or not qualified for or not desiring credit, including special students from the community. Individual lessons are offered in piano, voice, organ, and the string, brass, and woodwind instruments.

Fees for applied music are listed on pages 10 and 11.

Choral and Instrumental Ensemble in Music: After one full year of satisfactory participation in the Accompaniment Class, Band, Chamber Music Group, Maryville College Choir, Men's Glee Club, Orchestra, or Women's Choir, a student who continues in this organization will be given credit of one-half hour a semester and may earn such credit in any one organization for four semesters.

Public Performance and Ensemble Experience: Larger music organizations, bi-weekly public recitals, repertoire and accompaniment classes, the Madrigal Singers, Opera Workshop, and String Ensemble.

Applied Music

Concentration in Applied Music (piano, voice, violin, or organ): In addition to the basic core, courses 309, 310, 327, 24 hours of applied music, four semesters of accompanying, and junior and senior recitals.

Credit for Applied Music: One half hour lesson a week and the required practice, one semester hour; two half-hour lessons a week and the required practice, three semester hours for music majors, two semester hours for students not concentrating in music. Before registering for a course offering credit in applied music the student must show evidence of ability to carry work of college grade by performing at time of registration for a faculty auditions committee. Each student who has registered for credit must take a jury examination in his applied music subject at the end of each semester. Credit not to exceed 8 hours is given to qualified students who are not following the concentration in Applied Music or not taking courses in theoretical music. Additional credit will be allowed only when accompanied by theoretical courses in the ratio of one hour of credit of applied for 2 hours of credit of theoretical music.

Music Theory, Literature, and Education

Concentration in Music Theory and Literature: In addition to the basic core, courses 303, 309, 310, 345, and 12 hours of applied music. The concentration in Music Theory and Literature follows a curriculum similar to that shown in Applied Music on page 65.

Concentration in Music Education: In addition to the basic core, courses 240-245, 309 or 310, 321, 341, 344, 345, and 12 hours of applied music (6 in one field). Participation in ensemble work is required each semester, including at least one year in a choral organization and one year in an instrumental organization. The student will also meet certification requirements in professional education for the state in which he wishes to teach. These requirements usually can be met by the following courses: Psychology 201, Education 211, 212, 218, 309, 355. Students planning to teach in Tennessee will also take Education 308, and meet the General Education requirements stated on pages 45, 46 of this Catalog.

111. FUNDAMENTALS OF MUSICIANSHIP Three hours, second semester
This course or its equivalent is prerequisite to all music courses except Music 313. Special effort is made to familiarize the student with the keyboard, notation, scales, sight-singing, rudiments of music; also a general survey of different forms of music.
Not to be counted toward the major in music.

*Social Science, Health, or Mathematics.

101-102. Elementary Theory Two hours, each semester
An integrated course in the melodic, rhythmic, and harmonic elements of eighteenth century style which begins with isolated tones and ends with modulation to closely related keys. Each new thing is first located in typical musical examples, then heard, sung, played at the key board, and finally written. Meets three hours each week.
Prerequisite: Music 111 or its equivalent.

103-104. Elementary Ear-Training One hour, each semester
Two hourly meetings per week for purpose of drill in sight-singing, keyboard harmony, and melodic dictation. To be taken concurrently with Music 101-102 by music majors.

201-202. Intermediate Theory Two hours, each semester
A continuation of the work of the previous year which begins with a study of the chorale harmonizations of J. S. Bach and continues with a study of all seventh chords, non-harmonic tones, altered chords, and foreign modulations. Meets three hours each week.
Prerequisite: Music 102.

203-204. Intermediate Ear-Training One hour, each semester
Two hourly meetings per week for purpose of drill in sight-singing, keyboard harmony, and melodic and harmonic dictation. To be taken concurrently with Music 201-202 by music majors.

225, 226. Music History and Literature Three hours, each semester
A general course in the history and literature of music with emphasis on periods, bibliography, styles, and backgrounds which have a bearing on music trends from the earliest music to the present.
Prerequisite: Approval of instructor.

240-245. Class Lessons Each course, one hour, each semester
240. Beginning Strings
241. Advanced Strings
242. Percussion
243. Brasses
244. Woodwinds
245. Voice
Two hours per week of class instruction in each of fields above.

303. Sixteenth Century Counterpoint Three hours, second semester
A study of sixteenth century polyphonic style as exemplified in the works of Palestrina, Orlando di Lasso, and the madrigal writers with emphasis on two-, three-, and four-part writing by the student.
Prerequisite: Music 202.

304. Composition Three hours, either semester
Development of the basic technics in the structure and craft of musical composition. Writing in all free and strict forms according to individual abilities.
Prerequisites: Music 101, 102; 201-202 to be taken simultaneously with approval of instructor.
Fee will be charged for private instruction.

308. Survey of Church Music Three hours, first semester
An introduction to the liturgies of the church and a study of sacred choral literature with emphasis on materials which may be used in worship services.
Alternate years; to be given 1965-1966.

309, 310. Styles of Music Literature Three hours, each semester
A study in historical sequence of significant masterpieces of music literature with special emphasis on the development and analysis of styles. First semester, Oriental cultures through Baroque. Second semester, Rococo to present.
Prerequisites: Music 202 and 226.

313. Appreciation of Music Three hours, first or second semester
For juniors and seniors not majoring in music who wish to become familiar with the periods, styles, and masterpieces of music literature. Through the use of much illustrative material, the course is designed for the uninitiated listener as well as for the student who wishes to extend his knowledge of music.

321. Conducting
The fundamentals of conducting.
Prerequisite: Approval of instructor.

322. Conducting
Advanced conducting with emphasis on large form orchestral score reading.
Prerequisite: Music 321.

327. Techniques of Instruction: Piano, Voice, Violin, Organ One hour, first semester
Outline of the materials of instruction from the elementary through the more advanced levels. Attention to methods of teaching technique, progressive studies, repertoire, interpretation, and style. One hour class, one hour student teaching.
Alternate years; to be given 1964-1965.

341. Methods and Materials in Music, Grades 1-6 Three hours, first semester
A study of methods and materials for general, vocal, and instrumental music classes in grades 1-6.
Prerequisite: Education 218.

342. Elementary School Music Three hours, first semester
A course in music for classroom teachers based on participation in singing, listening, rhythmic, instrumental, and creative activities. Not to be counted on major in Music Education.
Prerequisite: Music 111, or the equivalent.

344. Methods and Materials in Music, Grades 7-12 Three hours, second semester
A study of methods and materials for general music classes, instrumental and choral organizations in grades 7-12.
Prerequisite: Music 341.

345. Orchestration
The fundamentals of orchestral arranging and transcription.
Prerequisite: Music 202.

346. Orchestration
Advanced work with emphasis on original works.
Prerequisite: Music 345.

351, 352. Independent Study in Music Three hours, each semester
Individual study, with the guidance of a faculty supervisor, involving command of the forms and usages of the formal paper. Required for the major in Music. Ordinarily taken in the second junior and first senior semesters.

Piano

161, 162. Piano Three hours, each semester
Technical studies, adapted to special needs of the student: etudes at least of the grade of Czerny, Opus 299; Bach. Two-Part Inventions; easier Mozart or Beethoven sonatas; romantic and modern compositions.

261, 262. Piano Three hours, each semester
Technical studies; Bach, Three-Part Inventions; sonatas of the grade of Beethoven, Opus 10, No. 1; romantic and modern compositions.

361, 362. Piano Three hours, each semester
Technical studies; Bach, Preludes and Fugues from the Well-Tempered Clavier; sonatas of the grade of Beethoven, Opus 2, No. 3; romantic and modern compositions. Junior recital.

363, 364. Piano Three hours, each semester
Comprehensive review of technical studies; preparation of a program of representative styles for Senior recital.

Voice

161, 162. Voice Three hours, each semester
Development and control of the vocal mechanism, tone building, controlled breathing, and the physical activity of singing. Songs in Early Italian, Old English. Italian diction.

261, 262. Voice Three hours, each semester
Continuation of technical studies with a greater degree of perfection. Vocal embellishments, French art songs, French diction, contemporary English, and lighter recitatives and arias from the early operas and oratorios.

361, 362. Voice Three hours, each semester
Continued technical studies. German Lieder of the masters. German diction, recitatives and arias from the more exacting operas and oratorios. Junior recital.

363, 364. Voice Three hours, each semester
Recapitulation of work in preceding years with greater degree of perfection of technique and interpretation. Contemporary American, French, English, and Russian songs. Continued study of operas and oratorios. Senior recital.

Violin

161, 162. Violin
Selected studies of Sevcik, Kayser, Kreutzer, adapted to special needs of the student; Vivaldi concertos; Handel sonatas; shorter works for developing style; vibrato and bowing techniques; scales and arpeggios (3 octaves).

261, 262. Violin
Continuation of studies adapted to special needs of the student; a Corelli sonata or Bach concerto; a Schubert sonatina; shorter works for developing style.

361, 362. Violin
Fiorillo and Rode etudes; Caserti Bowing Technique; Bach unaccompanied sonatas; Mozart sonatas; Mendelssohn Concerto; shorter Romantic and Twentieth-century compositions. Junior recital.

363, 364. VIOLIN
Paganini Caprices; Beethoven sonatas; a Romantic or Twentieth-century sonata. Senior recital.

Organ

161, 162. ORGAN Three hours, each semester
Manual and pedal techniques; easier choral preludes; numbers embodying simpler contrapuntal technique; fundamental principles of registration.

261, 262. ORGAN Three hours, each semester
Bach, Chorale Preludes from Orgelbuchlein, Eight Little Preludes and Fugues, Preludes and Fugues from Volume I, Widor-Schweitzer; shorter pieces for use in church service. Accompanying of hymns, anthems and chants.

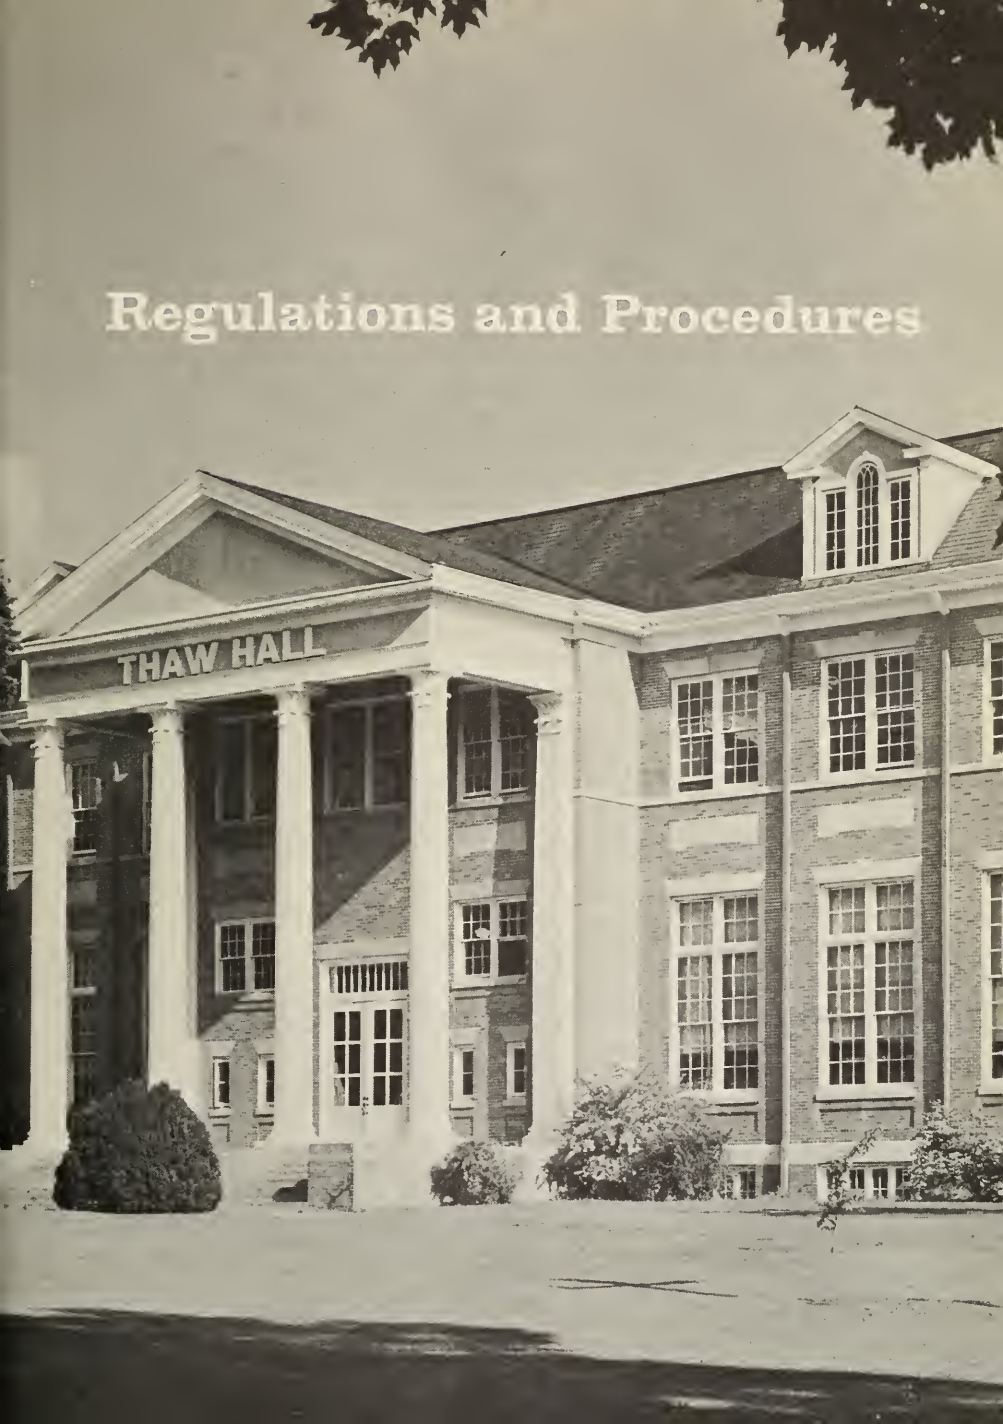
Regulations and Procedures



Campus Life and Program

The campus community is an association of faculty and students whose primary purpose is to strive for academic excellence and personal growth in the light of the Christian faith and motive. The program of campus life is organized on the principle that all of the college activities and influence should contribute to this essential purpose. Participation of students in the directing of campus life is encouraged to the extent that their time, training, and experience permit.

Students are given considerable responsibility in the planning and supervision of campus activities, particularly in the areas of religious, recreational, and social life. The Student Body Constitution and By-Laws provide for student officers, a Student Council, a Student-Faculty Senate, and various committees, many of which are joint faculty-student groups. The influence of student government is constructive, and the continuing development of student responsibility is an important aim.

The social program is designed to provide wholesome recreation and suitable social opportunities and training, without detracting from the important purposes and values of college. The program is planned and directed by a student-faculty committee related to the student government organization.

College requirements of a religious nature include Bible study as a part of the curriculum and attendance at daily chapel services. A week of spiritual emphasis, traditionally known as the February Meetings, is conducted at morning chapel services and voluntary evening services. Sunday is observed primarily as a day for worship and rest; social and athletic activities are in keeping with the purpose of relaxation and individual recreation. Students are encouraged and expected to participate actively in the program of some one of the local churches.

The aim of the religious program is to strengthen Christian faith and living, to face young people with the urgent mission of the Church, and to develop effective Christian leadership. Religious organizations are described elsewhere in this catalog. Campus religious life, activities, and organizations are the particular concern of a faculty-student committee.

Regulations

All students who are away from home room in the dormitories and board at the college dining hall, except by special permission granted only in unusual circumstances. Dormitory regulations are designed to encourage wholesome living, regular study, and consideration for others. Smoking is permitted only in the lounges provided for that purpose in each dormitory and is not allowed elsewhere on the campus.

The Women's Student Government Association and the Men's Student Cooperative participate in the management of the women's and men's dormitories, respectively. Students are expected to give full support and cooperation in these responsible student government organizations, as well as to the college staff in charge of the dormitories.

Away-from-home students may not have cars or other motor vehicles while enrolled at the College, except in unusual circumstances and by special permission obtained before arrival at Maryville.

No student, either local or away-from-home, may marry during the college year without Faculty approval.

The possession or use of alcoholic beverages by students is forbidden.

The faculty-student Committee on Discipline acts with authority delegated by the Executive Council of the Faculty and is ordinarily responsible for assessing demerits for infractions of regulations or for unbecoming conduct. Such action is presented to and recorded by the Executive Council of the Faculty. Decisions by the Committee on Discipline may be appealed by either party to the Executive Council of the Faculty, whose decision is final. The accumulation of ten demerits results in immediate suspension from college.

A student may be dismissed not only for overt acts but also whenever in the opinion of the Faculty he is persisting in a course of conduct detrimental to himself and the College or is not giving evidence of fitting into the larger ideals or program at Maryville. A report of official discipline is made to the parents and a statement of standing placed on the student's record.

A student is held responsible for any breach of the recognized rules of reputable conduct, whether or not specifically mentioned in the regulations. Dishonesty, including cheating in the classroom, sexual immorality, habitual profanity, gambling, and other serious misconduct forfeit for the offender all claims to the advantages offered by the College.

Organizations and Extracurricular Activities

The Student Council—This is the general administrative and legislative organ of the Student Body, which shares responsibility delegated by the Executive Council of the Faculty. The Student Council was organized in 1923 and consists of regularly chosen representatives of the four college classes.

Women's Student Government Association and Men's Student Cooperative—These are independent administrative departments of the student government and govern on matters pertaining to women's and men's residences.

The UCCF — The United Campus Christian Fellowship is a church-related organization. The UCCF seeks to find ways for students to live and work together as Christians while they are caught up in the day-to-day life of the College. It works through study, discussion, in extracurricular programs and in a constructive influence on teaching and administrative decisions.

The Societies—These are the most inclusive organizations on campus. They are sister and brother pairs: Chi Beta and Kappa Phi; Theta Epsilon and Alpha Sigma. These groups, of long standing at Maryville, offer a variety of activities, including weekly meetings, intramural sports, service projects, picnics, dances, and other social activities.

Honor Societies—Alpha Gamma Sigma, organized in 1934, is the college scholarship honor society. Its requirements are similar to those of Phi Beta Kappa. Beta Beta Beta, national honor biological society, has a chapter on the campus, as has Pi Gamma Mu, the national social science honor society, and Pi Delta Phi, national honor society for students of French.

Maryville has the distinction of having the Tennessee Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensic fraternity. Tau Kappa Chi is an honorary musical organization, and Theta Alpha Phi is the organization of the national dramatic fraternity. The student M.E.N.C. is open to all students interested in teaching music. It is affiliated with the Music Educators National Conference.

In addition, there are many special interest organizations on the campus, including the nationally known Maryville College Choir.

Student publications include the college newspaper, The Highland Echo, published every week, and the Chilhowean, the annual yearbook.

Extracurricular Activities

Extracurricular activities include a wide variety of opportunities for participation in athletics, musical organizations, forensics, dramatics, religious groups, student publications, literary and social societies, and the other activities usually found at a long established college of Maryville's size and type.

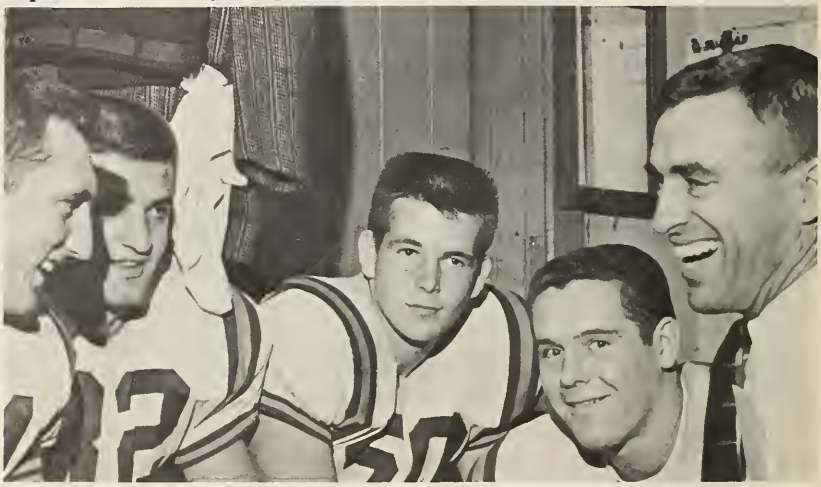
A number of student organizations, coordinated through the Student Council, offer abundant opportunities for participation in the planning and supervision of many campus activities.



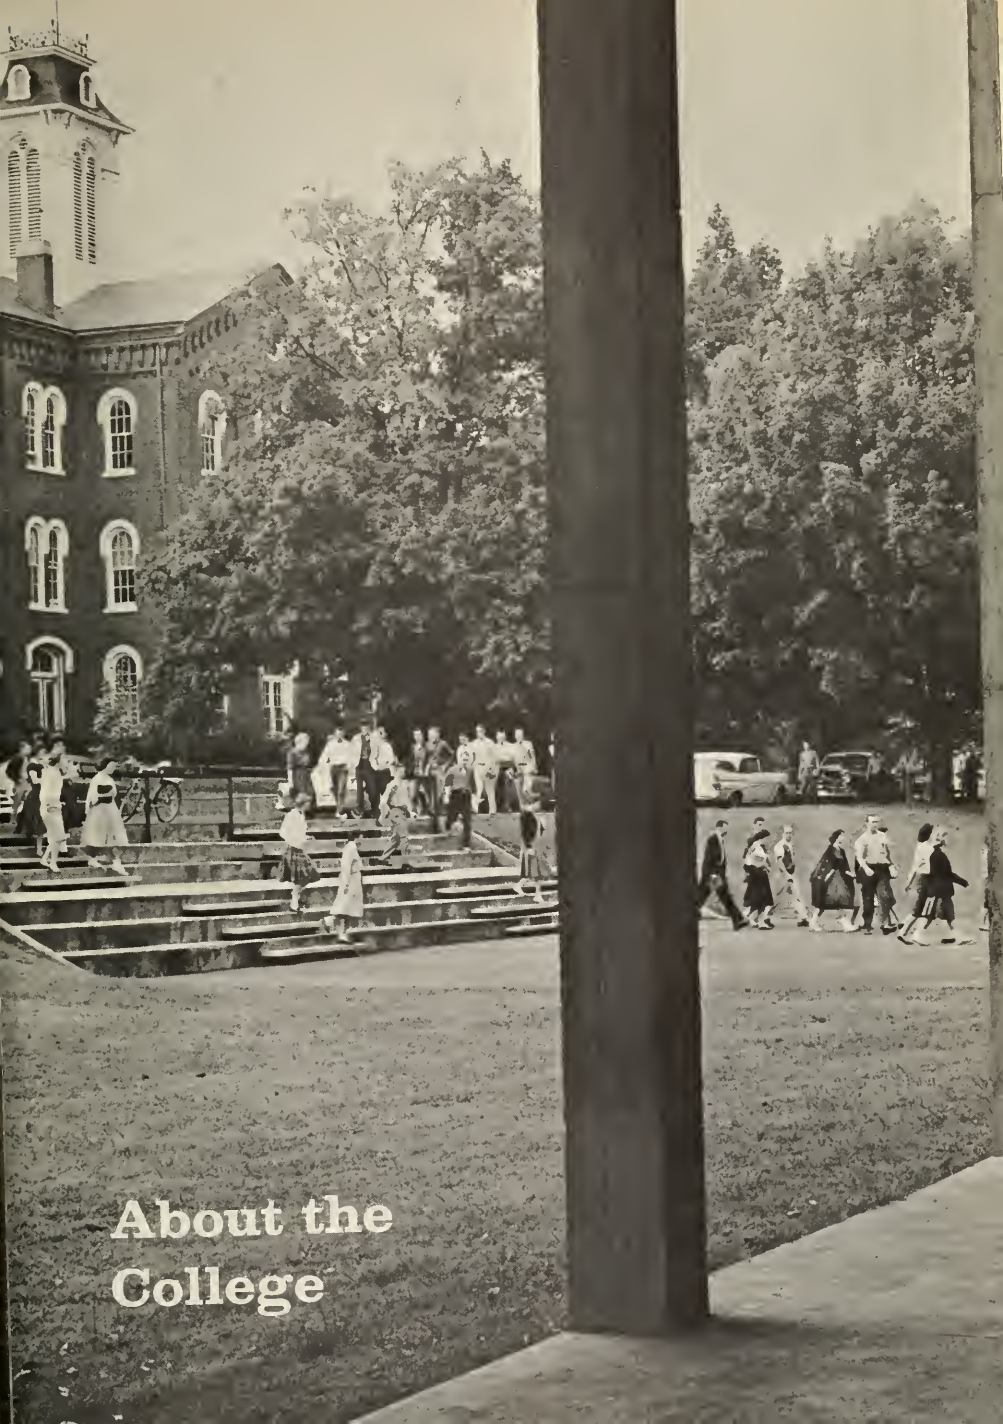
The College sponsors an extensive program of intercollegiate athletics, playing full schedules in football, basketball, wrestling, soccer, track, baseball, and tennis.

The choirs, including the nationally known Maryville College Choir, which makes an annual tour, the Women's Choir, and the Men's Glee Club, the College-Community Orchestra, and the Band provide opportunities for students with musical interests and abilities. The College Choir forms the nucleus for the annual presentation of Handel's Messiah during the Christmas season and sings each week for the Vesper service in the Chapel.

The College-Community Orchestra gives two concerts each year, plays for the Messiah production, and in cooperation with the Playhouse, the Glee Club, and Women's Choir takes part in the annual presentation of a popular musical comedy.

The Maryville College Playhouse presents four major productions each year, one of which is the musical comedy. The Playhouse also presents workshop productions and a film series.

The College annually engages in a number of intercollegiate debates and holds an enviable record in college forensics.



About the College

Accreditation

Maryville College is officially accredited by the national, regional, and state accrediting bodies. It is a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, the official accrediting body for the South; is an institutional member of the National Commission on Accrediting (not an accrediting agency); is a liberal arts college member of the National Association of Schools of Music; is approved by the State of Tennessee Department of Education, and the other principal educational associations and institutions.

The College is an institutional member of the American Council on Education, the Association of American Colleges, the American Association of University Women, the Presbyterian College Union, the Tennessee College Association, and other important groups.

History

Like most of the long-established colleges in America, Maryville College grew out of the zeal of the pioneers of the American church for education. It was founded in 1819, when the Rev. Dr. Isaac Anderson gathered a class of young men who were candidates for the ministry. Maryville is now one of the 50 oldest among the more than 2,000 institutions of higher education in the United States and is one of the 15 oldest in the South.

In the College's long record of academic excellence and financial stability it has been served by only seven presidents. The Rev. Dr. Joseph J. Copeland was inaugurated in August, 1961, the latest in a succession reaching back to the founder.

Dr. Anderson took charge of the New Providence Presbyterian Church in Maryville in 1812 and remained as its pastor until his death 45 years later. Under authority of the Presbyterian Synod of Tennessee he established in 1819 the Southern and Western Theological Seminary, which lasted until 1842 when a state charter was obtained and the name of the institution was changed to Maryville College after the town in which it is situated. The town of Maryville is named in honor of Mary Blount, wife of the first governor of Tennessee. Dr. Anderson served as president and professor for 38 years.

The institution was forced to close for five years during the Civil War, and the buildings were largely destroyed. In 1866, by the efforts of Professor Thomas Jefferson Lamar, the College reopened. The Rev. Dr. P. Mason Bartlett was called to be the third president, and the College was saved from extenction. A new campus site was purchased and Anderson Hall, the first of the buildings now on the campus, was built.

Growth after the Civil War was rapid. In 1866 there were 13 students; in ten years there were 150, and in 20 years almost 300. The Rev. Dr. Samuel Ward Boardman served as president from 1889 until 1901, when the Rev. Dr. Samuel Tyndale Wilson became the fifth president. During the 29 years of Dr. Wilson's presidency came the greatest progress yet achieved by the College. Enrollment grew from 389 to 760 by 1930; the number of buildings doubled from ten to 20; financial assets were increased from $250,000 to $2,500,000, and raising and stabilizing of scholastic standards went steadily forward.

For 105 years Maryville conducted both college and preparatory departments, but the latter was finally made unnecessary by development of the public school system by the state. The preparatory department was closed in 1925.

Maryville was one of the first colleges in the South to admit women students. Its liberal tradition also included the admission of Negroes until they were barred by state law in 1901. The College opened its doors again to Negroes immediately following the 1954 decision of the United States Supreme Court.

In 1930 the Rev. Dr. Ralph Waldo Lloyd became president, and the strength and influence of the College continued to grow. Enrollment increased to the present figure and permanent assets of the College increased to over $7,000,000. Dr. Lloyd inaugurated a long-range development program to provide for the growth of the College.

Under President Copeland a long-range development plan has been put in effect to allow the College to increase its service to the community and to a larger number of students. The initial phase of the development program will culminate in the Sesquicentennial celebration in 1969.

Church Relationship

Maryville College is connected organically with the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, and its directors are elected by the Synod of Mid-South of this church.

The College has a full-time chaplain. Students and faculty are encouraged and expected to attend Sunday church services and church school in the churches of the town and a Vesper service is conducted on the campus each Sunday evening during the college year.

Chapel services are held each weekday morning except Monday, conducted by members of the faculty and student body, with visiting speakers from time to time. Attendance at chapel is required. About 98 per cent of the students are Protestants and 63 per cent Presbyterians. All major denominations are represented.

Size

The college staff includes approximately 80 faculty members and administrative officers.

The 1964-65 enrollment of 795 students includes 361 men and 434 women. They come from 35 states and 6 foreign countries.

Location and Plant

The college is at Maryville, Tennessee, 16 miles from Knoxville, near one of the two main Tennessee entrances to the Great Smoky Mountains National Park. It is situated in a community of more than 30,000, including the City of Maryville and its twin City of Alcoa, site of large aluminum plants.

The Maryville College campus of 375 acres, at an elevation of 1,000 feet, is one of unusual natural beauty. About one third of this area constitutes the central campus on which are 20 buildings and the athletic fields; one third the College Woods; and one third the college dairy farm.

Buses run frequently between Knoxville and Maryville and from Chattanooga and Atlanta through Maryville at scheduled times. The American, Delta, United, Southern, and Piedmont Airlines have daily planes to the Knoxville Municipal Airport four miles from the Maryville campus.

Community Programs

Maryville College conducts a number of programs both on and off the campus for children, youth, and adults in the community. These include courses in music and art, special classes in economics and English, teaching of foreign languages in the elementary schools, swimming lessons at the College pool, a film series, Lecture Series, and a College-Community Artists Series.

A pre-school course in piano is offered for development of a sense of rhythm and the appreciation of music. A special experimental program of pre-school and elementary school classes in violin utilizing advanced teaching techniques is being offered, using the Suzuki method developed in Japan.

An office of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service has been established on the campus for a trout research and management study utilizing advanced students and facilities in the Biology Department.

Other college activities which involve the community include faculty and student recitals, and concerts by the College Choir, Women's Choir, Men's Glee Club, College-Community Orchestra, and Band.

The Maryville College Playhouse, organized in 1949, produces four major plays a year in the new and excellently equipped theatre. An art exhibition is presented once a month during the College year in the Art Gallery, offering a variety of material including work of students, local artists, and loan exhibitions.

The Lecture Series brings four outstanding speakers to the campus each year, one of whom is always an alumnus of the College. The Artists Series, under the control of a joint college-community committee, brings to the campus each year outstanding artists and musical organizations.

Alumni Association

The Maryville College Alumni Association, formed in 1871, has about 7,000 living members, many in important positions in the arts and sciences, the professions, business, and government. The Association holds an annual meeting during Commencement Week, when a dinner is given and awards presented to distinguished alumni. The Association also is active during the Homecoming festivities in the fall.

College Publications

The official publication of the College is the Maryville College Bulletin. It is issued nine times a year and is sent free to any who apply for it. The May number of each year is the annual catalog.

The Student Handbook, issued annually, is intended to provide general information about the College and about the work of the organizations for new and old students and to assist new students in adjusting themselves to their environment.

A supplement to the handbook is Cues for Coeds, a handbook for women students.

College Station Post Office

A branch of the United States Post Office at Maryville is situated on the campus. All the usual post office conveniences are furnished, and mail is delivered to individual student boxes in the post office. Student mail should be addressed to the College Station, Maryville, Tennessee, adding the post office box number of the student. The Zip Code number of 37801.

Honors and Prizes

Alexander English Prize.—Through the generous provision of Dr. and Mrs. John McKnitt Alexander, an annual prize, consisting of the income from a fund of $1,000, is offered to the member of the senior class who makes the best four-year record in English.

The T. T. Alexander Fund, established by a generous friend of the College who desires to remain anonymous and to have the Fund named in honor of one of Maryville's early foreign missionaries, provides awards annually to students from abroad adjudged by the Committee on Student-Help to have special need and merit.

Alpha Gamma Sigma Scholarship Award.—The alumni members of the Maryville College scholarship honor society, Alpha Gamma Sigma, have provided a fund by individual contributions to establish a scholarship to be awarded each year to the incoming junior who, at the end of the sophomore year, has the highest scholarship record in his class and is adjudged superior in character, campus citizenship, and leadership.

Bank of Maryville Economics Prize.—A prize of $25 is given annually at Commencement by the Bank of Maryville to the student doing the most outstanding work in the field of Economics during the year.

Blount National Bank Business Prize.—A prize of $25 is given annually by the Blount National Bank, of Maryville, to the student doing the best work in the field of Business Administration.

The Barraclough Choir Award is given annually at Commencement time by Dr. and Mrs. Henry Barraclough, of Philadelphia, Pa., to that senior who has been a member of the Choir of Maryville College for at least two years and who is adjudged to have been most outstanding in service to the Choir and also to have been an active Christian leader and a successful student.

Bates Bible Prize.—A gift of $2,000 was made by Rev. William H. Bates, D.D., of Greeley Colo., to establish a fund, the income of which is awarded annually under certain conditions to seniors for proficiency attained in Bible study.

Bates Forensics-Drama Prize.—A gift of $1,000 was made by the Rev. William H. Bates, D.D. of Greeley, Colo., to establish a fund, the income of which is at present used for an annual prize to be awarded a junior or senior participant in forensics or drama, ordinarily in alternate years. The award is made each year to a participant who in the judgment of the director of the activity, the Chairman of the Department, and the Dean of the College has been most outstanding in forensics or drama and at the same time has made a successful academic record.

Davies Fine Arts Scholarship Prize.—This fund, established in 1960 with initial gifts by students majoring in the Fine Arts, is named in honor of Miss Katharine Currie Davies, Chairman of the Department of Fine Arts from 1936 to 1964, and her parents, Rev. Dr. and Mrs. George E. Davies. Income from the fund is used for awards to students majoring in Fine Arts, selected at the end of their junior year by the Fine Arts faculty on the basis of achievement and progress in the major field, overall academic record, contribution to the College's life and work, financial need, and promise for the future.

Susan Allen Green Scholarship Prize Fund.—A gift of $1,000 was made before her death by Mrs. Louis A. Black (nee Susan Allen Green) to establish a scholarship prize fund from which annually the income is to be awarded to the most outstanding and promising member of the junior class majoring in Biology. Some additional gifts in her memory have been added to this fund.

Elizabeth Hillman Chemistry Prize Fund.—The sum of $1,000 was contributed in 1919 by Miss Sara F. Hillman, of Pittsburgh, Pa., to establish a fund, the income of which is to be used to provide "a prize or prizes to be awarded to women students for excellence attained in the Department of Chemistry." Since 1933-1934, the prizes have been awarded each year to the women students having the highest grades in chemistry at the completion of a stipulated number of hours (two courses of which must have been taken at Maryville). Any student having received the prize is ineligible for further competition.

The George A. Knapp Mathematics Scholarship Fund of $1,000 was established in 1941 by Tracy F. Knapp, Mary Gertrude Knapp Barrett, and Josephine Knapp Kiefer as a memorial to their father, Dr. George A. Knapp, who served as Professor of Mathematics and Physics in Maryville College from 1914 to his retirement in 1938. The income from this fund is awarded each year as a prize to the senior or junior student who is adjudged by a committee to be the most outstanding and most promising among those majoring in Mathematics.

E. E. McCurry Scholarship Prize.—The E. E. McCurry Prize Fund was established in 1959 through initial gifts by the men students then rooming in Carnegie Hall and was named in honor of Mr. E. E. McCurry, Proctor of Carnegie Hall, who retired in 1959 after 43 years of service to Maryville College. Income from the fund is used for an annual award to a man selected at the opening of his sophomore year on the basis of scholarship and need.

The Verton M. Queener Scholarship Prize Fund was established in April, 1959, by a gift from Mr. N. C. Caudill, Vice-President and Treasurer of Genesco, Nashville, Tennessee. Since that time additional gifts have been made by Mr. Caudill and Maryville College classmates of Dr. Queener. Two awards, each consisting of one half of the income, will be made annually to the outstanding junior in political science and to the outstanding junior in American or English history.

Theatre Arts Trophies.—Two awards known as the Nita Eckles West Playhouse Awards are presented annually to students participating in the Theatre and Speech Arts. These awards are provided by Mr. Charles T. West, of Maryville, in honor of his grandmother, who was for more than forty years a member of the faculty of Maryville College in charge of the work in Drama and Speech.

The Dr. J. W. F. Davies Trophy.—This trophy, to be given yearly to a student who best exemplifies excellence in the technical aspects of the theatre. The technical field includes scene construction, work in costuming, stage lighting, and creative design.

BEQUESTS AND DEVISES

Since each State has special statutory regulations in regard to wills, it is most important that all testamentary papers be signed, witnessed, and executed according to the laws of the State in which the testator resides. In all cases, however, the legal name of the corporation must be accurately given, as in the following form:

"I give and bequeath.....to 'MARYVILLE COLLEGE,' at Maryville, Tennessee, and to its successors and assigns forever, for the uses and purposes of said College, according to the provisions of its charter."

Preliminary Application

Fill out carefully the form at the bottom of this page, printing clearly the information requested. Separate the form at the perforated lines, attach check or money-order for $10 covering application fee, and mail in an envelope addressed to

Director of Admissions
Maryville College
